Rebel Attack in Indochina Aimed at U.S. Technicians

SNOW ALONG THE AZALEA TRAIL. The heaviest snowfall in 55 years blanketed the famed Azalea trail in Mobile, Ala., at the peak of the season when azaleas are in mass bloom. Marilyn Davis and her German shepherd dog, Mitzi, posed for this shot in Soldiers Memorial park, one of the beauty spots along the trail. Snow-covered azaleas form an attractive background.

U.S. Arms Aid Set at Nearly Eight Billions

Eisenhower Reports On Total Given Allies During Last 4 Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower told Congress today in a little more than four years the United States has given $7,700,000,000 worth of guns, ammunition and other military equipment to strengthen free nations against the threats of Soviet power.

The weapons supplied, he said, included 30,792 tanks and combat vehicles, 5,340 aircraft, 601 Navy vessels and 2 million small arms and machineguns.

Started in 1949

The figures he disclosed in the report on the mutual security program covered the period from the beginning of military assistance in October 1949 through last December. He said almost 50 per cent of the total was shipped during 1953.

The report pictured many nations as regaining economic health and depending less on American assistance.

But the President asserted "as long as the harsh threat to world peace exists our country will continue to shoulder the heavy obligations of world leadership."

He said military assistance and economic aid programs, though constantly revised "cannot be drastically cut without undoing much of the rewarding success which has been so painstakingly and laboriously achieved."

Breakdown Given

The report gave this breakdown of items provided on a global basis through Dec. 31:

99,444 electronic and signal equipment items (presumably such things as radar and radio sets).

30,792 tanks and combat vehicles.

176,343 motor transport vehicles.

30,037 artillery pieces.

35,372,000 rounds of artillery ammunition.

601 Navy vessels.

5,340 aircraft.

Almost 2 million small arms and machine guns.

About 1,100,000,000 rounds of small arm and machine gun ammunition.

City's Engineers Complete Sewer Map

First Chart in Local History Is Drawn By John Ruth

For the first time in history, Marion has a map of its sewers showing the entire system in detail.

Prepared by the city engineer's office, the huge map, 10 feet long and eight feet wide, will be presented to City Council at its meeting tonight in city hall.

Actually the map is not in one piece. It is divided into four sections measuring approximately five by four feet each.

JOHN V. RUTH, assistant city engineer who did most of the drawing, together with City Engineer Thomas Cathers, and Assistant City Engineer Thomas Taylor, worked on the map during spare minutes over a period of two and one-half months.

Statistical data for the map was gathered from records in the city engineers office, from private sources, and from observations made by Cathers. Most of the research was done by Taylor.

PURPOSE OF THE map is to give contractors and home builders a picture of all existing sewers in the city, their depth below the street surface, the street elevation, the direction of flow, and location of manholes and catchbasins.

Both storm and sanitary sewers are shown. One is indicated by a dotted line while the other is indicated by a solid line. Positioning of the lines on the map shows whether the sanitary sewer is atop or below a storm water sewer.

Long-needed as a permanent record of city sewers, the map was but an idea in the engineering department for several years. About two years ago City Council requested such a map be drawn, but other more urgent work in the department delayed its start. About three months ago, other projects slackened and Ruth and Taylor began the task.

Using old, fragile, and sometimes incorrect city maps for street locations, Ruth drew the

French Plan New Defense For Airfields

State of Emergency Enforced Following Raid by Commandos

HAIPHONG, Indochina (AP)—French military authorities enforced a state of emergency in this vital seaport today following a Vietminh commando raid on a nearby landing field where American air technicians service U. S. supplied transport planes for the French war against the Communist-led rebels.

Reports circulated that the Vietminh had declared they planned to attack every area where American personnel work. The Vietminh radio recently accused the United States of intervening in the Indochinese war.

None Involved in Attack

None of the 44 U. S. Air Force personnel stationed at the field, Catbi, three miles from Haiphong, was on the airfield when the commandos attacked before dawn yesterday.

Another 105 American technicians work at Doson airstrip, 12 miles southeast of Haiphong. The French set up prohibited zones around both fields, barring from the areas all civilians except those with special authorization.

The rest of the 252 Americans aiding the French in maintaining the planes are stationed at Tourane, on the central Indochinese coast.

The French announced the seizure of 74 men suspected to aiding the Vietminh in the Catbi raid. The military said five of the raiders were killed, "several" taken prisoner and three high explosive charges had been seized.

Patrols Reinforced

Patrols at the two airfields were reinforced following the attack. Patrols at all other landing strips in north Indochina were alerted today to guard against further Vietminh raids.

Before the arrival of the Americans, Vietminh commandos raided the Doson field about a month ago.

Cleanup Drive Pressed

Puerto Rico Seeks Four Red Leaders

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—Pushing its drive against political trouble makers, the Puerto Rican government today sought the "Big Four" of the island's Communist party and two Nationalist leaders still at large.

Sweeping police raids over the weekend netted 40 Nationalist party leaders and six Communists. All were jailed as possible subversives. The roundup was launched after last Monday's attack by Nationalists in the U.S. House of Representatives.

Taken Without Violence

The Reds were captured without violence in a second round of arrests yesterday. This was in contrast to the gunfire and tear gas attack when Nationalist chief Pedro Albizu Campos and five of his aides were routed out of his apartment Saturday.

The four Communists being sought are Juan Santos Rivera, the party president, who reportedly had Moscow training; Juan Saez Corales, a local labor union organizer; Cesar Andeu Iglesias, former party president; and Pablo Garcia Rodriguez, a Harvard-graduated lawyer.

In custody as Reds are Consuelo Burgos de Saez, wife of Saez Corales; Jane Speed Andreu, 43, of Berkeley, Calif., Andreu's wife; Mariano Arroyo Zeppendfelt, Ramon Mirabal, Cristino Perez and Felix Ojeda.

Atty. Gen. Jose Trias said both the alleged Communists and Nationalists, jailed on $25,000 bail each, are being charged with violating a local anti-subversive law.

Authorities believe the Puerto Rican Communist party has less than 100 members but fear that it is tied in with the Nationalist faction, which has several hundred followers. Both parties demand complete independence for Puerto Rico, and reportedly the Reds furnished some of the arms for the 1950 Nationalist revolt in which 50 persons were killed.

Gain Little Support

Communist leaders have denied arms aid to the rebels. They also issued a newspaper statement last week disclaiming any connection with the Washington shooting.

The extreme Nationalists have gained little legislative support in Puerto Rico. The lower house recently rejected 42-14 a resolution calling for complete independence instead of the present commonwealth status. The Senate voted 27-5 against a similar resolution.

Albizu Campos, in a prison hospital, was said by officials to have recovered from the effects of the tear gas that was used in arresting the fiery 62-year-old radical Saturday.

Managed Front-Porch Campaign

Movie 'Czar' Will Hays, Adviser to Harding, Dies

SULLIVAN, Ind. (AP) — Will H. Hays, 74, who led a predepression cleanup of movie morals after uniting the Republican party behind President Harding, will be buried in his beloved home town Wednesday.

The man who served 24 years as so-called czar of the motion picture industry died in the quiet of his home here yesterday.

Once a Republican national chairman before he was 40, he kept an interest in politics till death, though a heart ailment had made him an invalid since October. Only in the last week did his condition become critical.

His wife, Jessie, and his only son, by a former marriage, Will H. Hays Jr. of Crawfordsville, Ind., were at his deathbed.

Through his years as a public figure in politics and the movie industry, he kept his home and law office in Sullivan and voted here.

He had been in good health until a pneumonia attack a year ago, then returned from his New York home last fall because of his heart ailment.

His genius in reorganizing the Republican party in Indiana sent him up to the national chairman's job to reunite the party, still bearing the wounds of the Bull Moose split.

His success brought a landslide victory for Harding in 1920, and

Harding named him postmaster general.

Hays left the Cabinet job in 1922 to clean up the Hollywood film industry, then under a cloud of movie colony scandals. He served 24 years as the $150,000-a-year president of the Motion Picture Producers & Distributors of America.

Though he retired from the Hollywood job to his law practice in 1945, the "Hays office" code of good taste in movies remained

Contract Let On New Junior Fair Building

The Marion County Agriculture Society awarded a contract Saturday for the construction of a Junior fair building on the Marion County fairgrounds.

Don Clements, president of the fair board, said that a contract was let Saturday night at a special meeting of the board to Ebert and Heimlich of Cardington. Their bid of $8,700 was low of five received for the construction of a concrete block building measuring 40 by 100 by 10 feet.

Clements said the location of the building has not yet been picked, but it will be placed in relation to other new buildings planned for the future by the fair board.

The board had met March 1 with a group of 4-H club leaders, teachers and farmers to discuss fair problems. At that time the need was expressed for a junior fair building, a cattle barn and a merchants building. However, only enough money was available to construct one building.

Clements said the fair board decided on the junior fair building because it was the most essential of the three and because fair board members felt the citizens group had wanted it, too.

Work on the structure is expected to get under way April 1; completion date is July 1. Specifications call for a concrete floor in the building. It will be only the outside shell of the building. Clements said he expects the junior fair board will use the funds raised from the coupon sale in connection with the Ice Cycles show appearing at the coliseum April 6 and 7 to furnish the interior of the building.

He said the building will be large enough to house three rows of booths with two large aisles and all the displays previously housed in the coliseum.

Death Toll Reaches 13 In Austrian Avalanches

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP) — Austria's toll of avalanche deaths over the past weekend climbed to 13 today as rescue workers uncovered the bodies of three more skiers buried under a 30-foot-deep snow slide.

It took rescue workers 12 hours to find the three Austrians.

The deaths brought to 154 the number killed by snow slides in Austria this year.

Indiana Bandit Admits Thefts At Area Banks

'Lunch Hour' Robber Tells of Robberies at Dunkirk, Forest, Ada

A "lunch-hour" bandit trapped and arrested Friday by Fort Wayne, Ind. police reportedly has confessed to bank robberies in Dunkirk, Forest and Ada.

The "lunch-hour" bandit — so called because he held up banks during the noon period when not many bank employes were on duty — is Bernard E. LaClair, 31, of Fort Wayne. He admitted robberies in Indiana, Connecticut, and Massachusetts, and then added the three Ohio stick-ups.

FBI agents report LaClair admitted getting $4,603 from the Kenton Savings Bank in Dunkirk last May 16; $8,336 on Aug. 24 in Forest and $7,037 in Ada on Oct. 22.

Fort Wayne Police Chief Alfred Figel said LaClair walked into a trap set Friday after his alleged getaway driver, George Miller, 28, of Fort Wayne, was arrested for drunken driving and free spending. They said, after six arrests, they had solved nine one-man bank holdups in 15 months.

Seven employes from two of the robbed banks identified LaClair, in a police lineup as the "lunch-

Mutual Security Pact

U. S. Signs Defense Treaty With Japan

TOKYO (AP)—Japan and the United States today signed a mutual defense pact to give the Japanese both guns and grain and hasten the day when American soldiers can withdraw from the island empire.

The mutual defense assistance agreement—actually a series of agreements—will pour 100 million dollars of American aid into Japan's economy in the next three months and probably amount to much more in the long run.

Step Nearer Goal

U. S. Ambassador John Allison said the agreement "takes us one step nearer the time when the United States can withdraw its forces from Japan."

Japanese Foreign Minister Katsuo Okazaki signed for his government.

The agreement will boost Japan's defense force from 120,000 to 160,000 men and hold it along more military lines. The United States will supply ships and planes.

Will Ship Grain

The United States also will start the movement of 500,000 tons of surplus wheat and 100,000 tons of barley to Japan. And Japan will sell the grain domestically and in turn use the money for guns and munitions.

The agreement was hammered out in eight months of negotiation which at times brought the Liberal government of Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida under intense opposition criticism. Despite Socialist opposition, the government expects ratification by April 1.

Allison emphasized that the pact does not require Japan "to send its young men abroad." He quoted Secretary of State Dulles who said recently the agreement would be "purely of a defensive nature, directed exclusively toward contribut-

Dulles Lashes At Communism

U.S. Secretary Opens Big Debate at Caracas

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — John Foster Dulles opened the 10th Inter-American Conference's debate on communism today, reading out to allegedly pro-Communist Guatemala the "established facts" about the international Communist Movement.

Although the U.S. secretary of state emphasized he was not accusing "any government or any individual of being either plotters or dupes of plotters", he referred pointedly to Guatemala.

Recalling Guatemalan Foreign Minister Guillermo Toriello asked during last week's debate "what is international communism," Dulles said:

"I thought that by now every foreign minister of the world knew what international communism is. It is disturbing if the foreign affairs of one of our American republics are conducted by one so innocent that he has to ask that question."

April Draft Quota Will Be Five Men

Marion County's April draft call was set at five by the state selective service headquarters today, The Associated Press reported. The monthly induction call for the state was for 998 20-year-olds and compared with 890 called in March.

Other area counties and the number of men called follow:

Crawford, 4; Delaware, 5; Hardin, 3; Morrow, 2; Union, 4; and Wyandot, 3.

Miami Speech Answered

McCarthy Blasts Back At Stevenson's Charges

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—On the heels of Adlai E. Stevenson's criticism of President Eisenhower for failing to put the brakes on Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), two Democratic senators today agreed that economic issues should outweigh McCarthy's activities in the party's 1954 campaign strategy.

In a speech creating the general impression here he is actively in the field for the 1956 Democratic presidential nomination, Stevenson said Eisenhower could stop what the former Illinois governor called a campaign by McCarthy to "sow slander and dissension" across the nation.

Questions Issue's Merit

Although he said he agreed generally with that conclusion, Sen. Magnuson (D-Wash) said he is not too sure of either the timing or the importance that Stevenson gave to McCarthy and his Communist-in-government charges. He was joined by Sen. Murray (D-Mont).

"Come next fall, when control of Congress is decided at the polls, I think the fiscal policies the Republicans have put into effect are going to be the most important issue." Magnuson said in an interview.

'Clever Political Talk'

Stevenson's charges in a speech here Saturday night that McCarthy's investigation threatened a "malignant and fatal totalitarianism" and that out of two million federal employes "only one alleged active Communist has been found" brought a hot reply from McCarthy.

"It was a very clever political talk designed to cloud the issues," McCarthy said in an interview.

"The speech reminded me of a story. My brother and I went to

Early Decision On Successor To Kyes Likely

Secretary of Navy Among Several Seen As Possible Appointees

WASHINGTON (AP)—The name of Secretary of the Navy Robert Anderson rode high today in speculation on the administration's choice of a successor for Roger B. Kyes in the Defense Department's No. 2 job.

The White House and Pentagon announced over the weekend Kyes will leave the deputy secretaryship where he has served with Secretary of Defense Wilson since the outset of the Eisenhower administration.

Kyes, interviewed at his home near Detroit, emphasized that his resignation "has absolutely nothing to do" with the recent clash between Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens and Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

Pentagon sources indicated the decision on a new deputy secretary already was made and that announcement of his identity could

Kyes Formerly Lived in City; Wife Is Native

Roger B. Kyes, who plans to leave his post of Deputy Secretary of Defense, was at one time a Marion resident.

Kyes and his family lived in Marion at 1133 E. Center St., just prior to the time he joined the General Motors Corp. Mrs. Kyes is the former Helen Jacoby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Jacoby of 383 S. State St. Prior to her marriage Mrs. Kyes, a graduate of Oberlin College, taught English at Harding High School. She met her husband while visiting a college roommate in Boston. Kyes' home was formerly in East Palestine, O.

Before his appointment to the Defense Department post, Kyes was general manager of GM's motor truck and coach division. He had been with the corporation from 1948 until last year.

He was vice president of the Empire Plow Co. of Cleveland in the 1930's after holding executive positions with the Glenn L. Martin Co., Cleveland, and Black and Decker Mfg. Co., Towson, Md. He became president of the Harry Ferguson, Inc., Chicago, in 1943 and left that post in 1947.

Fire Destroys Barn, Stock at Farm in County

A fire Saturday night leveled a large barn at the Gomer Johnson farm, one and a half miles south of New Bloomington on the Green Camp - New Bloomington road.

Johnson suffered first and second degree burns in the fire which destroyed over $6,000 worth of property, grain and livestock. The burns were sustained when Johnson attempted to remove some of the livestock from the burning barn. He was treated by Dr. R. A. Dietrich at LaRue.

Destroyed in the blaze were some 3,000 bushels of corn, hay, pigs and lambs which were kept in the barn. Fire threatened nearby buildings, a smaller barn and hen house, but firemen from New Bloomington and LaRue kept the flames from spreading.

Johnson's son, James Johnson, discovered the fire about 9 p.m. after it had made considerable progress.

The two fire departments used three trucks in all, and laid hose line from the Scioto River for additional water. New Bloomington's volunteer fire department had two trucks, a tank truck and fire truck, at the scene.

Saved from the fire were several sheep and hogs and some corn.

Two in Cincinnati Killed by Bandit

CINCINNATI (AP)—From a deathbed description, police today hunted for a bandit who shot and killed two men in a tavern in suburban St. Bernard yesterday.

Anderson, shot in the abdomen after he handed the holdup man $111.75 in a cigar box, lived long enough to give police a description of his assailant.

Ex-Girl Friend To Face Wable In Murder Case

Prosecutor Has Star Witness in Trial of Accused Pike Slayer

GREENSBURG, Pa. (AP) — John Wesley Wable, 24, being tried on a murder charge in the phantom slaying of a truck driver on the Pennsylvania Turnpike, prepared today to hear his ex-girl friend testify as a state witness.

As the second week of the trial began, Asst. Dist. Atty. Joseph M. Loughran said he is calling Miss Leora Crissey, 22, of Cleveland, to help build up a web of circumstantial evidence against Wable.

The state already has said it wants the jury to send Wable to death in the electric chair.

Standing by with scores of witnesses still to be called are Miss Crissey's mother and her stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. John Jandura.

It was through Miss Crissey and her stepfather that police obtained a German automatic pistol which officers identified as the gun used by the turnpike killer. Police quoted Miss Crissey as saying Wable gave the gun to her.

Wable, 24, of Ohiopyle, Pa., is charged with shooting to death two truck drivers as they slept on the seats of their trucks along the turnpike last July. He is on trial only for the slaying of one of the truckers, Harry F. Pitts, 39, of Bowling Green, Va. The other victim was Lester B. Woodward, 39, of Duncannon, Pa.

Wable also is charged with shooting a third truck driver, John K. Sheperd, 34, of West Alexander, Pa., as he slept in the cab of his truck in Ohio near the western terminus of the turnpike. Sheperd, like Pitts and Woodward, was shot in the head. Sheperd recovered.

Hays Spent Summer Here During Campaign

In directing Warren Harding's presidential campaign in 1920, Will Hays made his headquarters in Marion and spent most of the summer here.

The headquarters were in the old Christian home just east of Harding's on Mt. Vernon Ave. It was later destroyed by fire.

Marionites close to Harding and the "front porch" campaign remember Hays as a small, friendly man. He returned to the city for Harding's funeral.

Five Are Killed In Columbus as Train Hits Car

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Three women and two men were killed early today when their automobile was struck by a Baltimore and Ohio freight train at a street crossing here.

The dead were identified as George Commodore, 44; Mrs. Lulu Mae Brown, 30; Mrs. Beatrice Talbot, 32; Don Long and Mrs. Ruth Long, wife of Don Long, all of Columbus.

Police said the five victims were returning home from Springfield, Ohio, where they had visited several private clubs.

Their car, was hit broadside by the diesel of a 55-car Newark-to-Cincinnati freight train at the W. Mound St. crossing. The car lodged on the front of the diesel and was carried three-tenths of a mile down the tracks. The victims were crushed.

Police said the accident toll was the highest for a single accident in Columbus in many years.

NYC Directors Target of New Blast by Young

NEW YORK (AP)—Financier Robert R. Young says the management of the New York Central Railroad is "coercing" its employes to fight his attempt to take over control of the line.

Young said yesterday that an employe had complained to him that department heads were telling each worker that he would be expected to solicit the proxies of six shareholders in his neighborhood.

The work, said Young, is to be done on the employe's own time.

NYC President William White said of Young's charges: "It just sounds to me like a lot more words. Cry-baby words. This is just more evidence that Young can't stand resistance."

Young, former chief executive of the Chesapeake & Ohio, is seeking to wrest control of the Central system from the management headed by White. The issue will be decided by shareholders at a meeting in Albany May 26.

sewers on them from the information gathered by Taylor and Cathers.

Once the drawing was completed, photostatic copies were made and these were pasted on beaver board backing.

—:—

CATHERS SAID this is just the first issue of the sewer map. Eventual plan is to redraw it with all streets and alleys correctly located and indentified. This done, the map will then be transferred to permanent type roll down maps which may be attached to a wall and easily preserved, Cathers said. There would be four of the roll down maps with two sets of them for the engineer's office, one for City Council chambers and one for the city barns, Cathers said.

Information concerning new sewer installations at any time in the future could easily be added to these maps, he added.

Ruth said that the present map will be studied by the engineering department and any necessary additions or corrections will be made.

LAST BIG EXPANSION of city sewers occurred in the period from 1924 to 1930 following construction of the city's first sewage treatment plant in 1924, Cahters said. It was in that year the main trunkline sewer from the treatment plant east to Church and Forest Sts. was completed.

In the last six years, only three major expansions have been undertaken by the city. These included completion of Ququa ditch storm water sewer, the Clinton St. sanitary sewer and the Niles St. interceptor sewer, Ruth explained.

Only other major expansion since 1930 was in 1942 when the federal government extended the trunkline sewer from Forest and Church Sts. to E. Center and Jefferson Sts. This became property of the city. From E. Center and Jefferson Sts., the federal government also ran a sanitary sewer north to Fairground St. on Jefferson St. then northeast to Scioto Ordinance Plant and from there south east to the Marion Engineer Depot. The city was recently given permission to use this sewer as a trunkline to serve the northeast section of the city on condition the city maintain it.

Longshoremen In New York Continue Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Dissatisfied longshoremen continued a "wildcat" strike on the New York waterfront today despite a previous prediction by their union leader that the work stoppage would end.

Members of the Independent International Longshoremen's Assn. gathered at several piers but refused to heed the calls of hiring agents. Immediately affected was the transatlantic liner Mauretania, arriving from Europe.

The insurgent workers also refused to load a waiting cargo aboard the Mexican Line freighter Gezina Brovig at an East River pier.

The strike, started Friday in a protest over a Federal Court injunction, had been expected to end today after ILA President William V. Bradley said yesterday:

"I think I'll be able to get the men back to work. At any rate, I will try like hell. I am sure they will go back tomorrow."

The strike action was taken because the injunction was not directed also at the rival AFL longshoremen's group.

hour bandit" who, with a flourish of courtesy, staged the robberies. Meanwhile, a man who strongly resembles LaClair may win his freedom from the Danbury, Conn. Federal Correctional Institution, where he was sent after conviction for a job LaClair admitted in a signed statement.

But the convict, Laurence D. Howley, won't be completely free. There is a bench warrant waiting his release to bring charges of armed robbery in Kensington, Conn., against him.

Sheriff Harold Zeis said LaClair has admitted robbing the Kensington branch of the New Britain National Bank at Berlin, Conn., of $25,000 Jan. 6, 1953. Howley was given a 10-year sentence for this robbery.

The others arrested, along with the 31-year-old LaClair, are his sister, Mrs Helen L. Martin, and her sons, John Henry Martin III, 20, both of East Hartford, Conn.; LaClair's brother Donald, 25, Windsor, Conn.; and Sylvester Morrison, 44, Hartford, Conn.—all four charged as accomplices — and George M. Miller.

Three employes of the First State Bank at Bourbon, Ind., robbed of $9,500 on July 25, 1953, also identified Miller, 28, as driver of the getaway car. Employes of the Hamlet State Bank, robbed last June 6 of $7,500 also identified LaClair.

The loot from the nine robberies totaled nearly $160,000. Less than $13,000 has been found of the missing money.

Kyes and his former General Motors Corp. colleague, Wilson, both said the deputy secretary took the job with the understanding he would remain for only a year. The assumption here is that Kyes will return to some official position with GM. However, he said he was not sure he would return to the automobile business.

Basis for Speculation

Those who talked of Anderson, a Texas businessman and rancher, figured it this way:

Wilson reportedly wanted to turn to the service secretariat in picking a man for the second most important job in the huge military establishment, rather than disturb his "team" arrangement of assistant defense secretaries.

In seniority and precedence, the Army secretary normally would rate first. But while the White House and Pentagon have backed Stevens in the stormy row with McCarthy, they may feel they could not promote him to the deputy defense secretary post without risking repercussions.

Secretary of the Air Force Harold Talbott has been praised highly by Wilson for his reorganization of procurement programs and business administration—but on at least one occasion a comment attributed to him produced diplomatic ripples abroad.

Talbott last Nov. 2 was quoted as saying, while on a European tour, the proposed U. S. air bases in Spain eventually would have supplies of atomic weapons if Spain agreed.

Denied Statement

Next day he denied making the statement and Secretary of State Dulles said there were no such plans.

Anderson, on the other hand, is described as having the same management sagacity as the other two service secretaries—but has succeeded in steering clear of embarrassments like those suffered by Stevens and Talbott.

The possibility that an outsider might be asked to accept the job was not precluded in Pentagon talk.

In this connection, there was mention of such names as Paul G. Hoffman, Ike Wilson and Kyes a motor industry man and a former foreign aid program administrator, and of John J. McCloy.

Three Marionites Hurt in Accident

Three Marion residents were injured—one hospitalized—as a result of a Sunday night accident reported by the Bucyrus post of the state highway patrol.

The mishap occurred on Route 4 at 8:40 p.m. in Crawford County just north of the Marion County line. A car driven by Richard L. Ramsey, 19, who gave his address as the Werley Hotel, 713 Hoyle St., was passing another car when his auto ran onto the berm, went out of control and into a ditch.

Injured were Ramsey with a bruised eye; Katherine Clark, 21 of 502 Osgood St. with a fractured left ankle and bruises on the face; and Jack Lester, 27, of 348 Mound St. with abrasions of the head. Patrolmen said all three were taken to the Bucyrus City Hospital by the Wise ambulance of that city. Ramsey and Lester were treated and released.

Six Marion Mishaps Reported; Patrolmen List One for County

Three persons were injured in three of seven weekend traffic accidents investigated on city streets and county highways by Marion police and state highway patrolmen.

Juan Galan, 29, of near Marion was sent to Marion City Hospital with a cut on his face and possible internal injuries after the car he was driving collided with a railroad train at 7:29 p.m. Saturday. The accident occurred at the Erie Railroad Dayton division crossing on Kenton Ave., police reported. Galan was driving southeast on Kenton Ave. and the train was southbound, police said. Engineer of the train was Howard Walker of 191 Wildwood Ct.

Mrs. Oliver Wagner of Fostoria received a minor neck injury when the car driven by her husband, Arthur Wagner, was struck from the rear by another car driven by Esther E. Hershberger of Bucyrus in front of 117 N. Main St. at 6 p.m. Sunday.

Police said there was no damage to either car and Mrs. Wagner stated she would go to her doctor in Fostoria for treatment of her neck injury.

Four other accidents in the city were all fender benders with no injuries reported.

At 9:51 a.m. Saturday, cars driven by John C. Gompf, 18, of near Cardington and Kenneth S. Abbott, 37, of 466 Merchant Ave. were involved in a collision at an alley intersection at the rear of the Smith Clinic on E. Church St.

Cars driven by John T. Gruber of Vernon Heights Blvd. and a taxicab driven by Paul Ludwig, 20, of 265 S. Prospect St. were involved in a mishap in front of 133 W. Center St. at 11:30 a.m. Saturday.

A collision at Main and Center Sts., at 9:47 p.m. Sunday involved cars driven by Miss Mary McCaulley of 490 Smith St. and Glenn R. Walraven of 905 S. Prospect St.

A police cruiser driven by Clifford W. Lester, 28, of 201 Latourette St. was slightly damaged when it skidded into a utility pole at N. Prospect St. and an alley behind the S. S. Kresge Co. on W. Center St. at 7:04 p.m. Sunday. Patrolman Lester said he was driving west in the alley and skidded when he attempted to stop for the street intersection.

Boy Falls From Car

A three-year-old Marion boy escaped serious injury Saturday when he fell from a moving automobile just north of the city on Route 23.

Officers from the Marion post of the state highway patrol reported that at 5:15 p.m. Ronald James Spears, a passenger in a car driven by his aunt, Estella L. Tyler of Belaire Gardens, fell from a car while it was slowing down to turn into the driveway of the home. Patrolmen said the boy was riding alone in the back seat; his mother, Mrs. Grace Spears, and another child were in the front seat.

The boy was uninjured except for body bruises sustained when he struck the pavement. Patrolmen said a long string of cars were following the Tyler auto but were going so slowly that they were able to stop before hitting the boy.

McCarthy

my father's barn a long time ago to clean it out. We disagreed how it should be done. If Stevenson had been there he would have kept trying not to clean it out at all.

"What the Republicans are trying to do is clean up the Democratic mess. We don't always agree on how the job should be done, but we all agree it must be done."

McCarthy said he campaigned for Eisenhower in 1952 and "I'd campaign for him again today.

"Not that I think he's perfect," McCarthy said, "but the President is right 95 per cent of the time, which is a very big average."

McCarthy said he thought what Stevenson was so "surred up about" was the fact that Eisenhower "does not object to exposure of Communists in the Army or elsewhere."

Sen. Magnuson, a staunch supporter of Stevenson in the 1952 campaign, said he believes the country is sliding into a business recesion and the Democrats ought to blow every warning horn they are able to sound.

Backing this up, Sen. Murray said in a separate interview he also feels the Democrats should stress economic issues and not pay so much attention to McCarthy and his charges.

"I agree with Stevenson that we cannot afford to have the terrible division among the American people that the Republican leaders seem to be encouraging McCarthy to create," the Montana senator said.

Sollars Named By Crawford As School Head

BUCYRUS—The Crawford County Board of Education, at its regular monthly meeting here Saturday night, voted 3 to 2 to renew the contract of County School Supt., S. K. Sollars for a tw-year period, effective Aug. 1.

Sollars, who has been connected with the county school system 25 years, is completing his sixth year as county superintendent. No salary was specified in the new contract. His present salary is $5,500 a year.

Board members voting to retain Sollars were Ralph Worden, president, Park Stuckman and Lloyd Volk. Pearson L. Lin nand Russel Coulter voted against the contract renewal.

Before being appointed county superintendent, Sollars served eight years as superintendent of Holmes-Liberty School. Prior to that he was employed 11 years as teacher, coach and superintendent at Sulphur Springs School.

The board declined to take any action on the petition of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Tracht to have their property transferred from the Leesville School District to the Polk School district. All Polk district pupils attend Galion city schools and board members pointed out that the official transfer of the Polk district to Galion has not yet been completed.

ing to the defense and security of the Japanese homeland."

However, neither does the agreement specify that Japan should not send troops wherever it saw fit.

The agreement binding Japan to the Western democracies in the fight against communism provides for destroyers, tanks, jeeps, airplanes and other military needs. It also provides for a 700-man military advisory group to serve with the Japanese defense force.

Material given to the Japanese cannot be resold to other nations.

The agreement is almost identical with similar mutual defense pacts the United States has signed with many nations.

Okazaki noted "our participation in the system of mutual security signifies another step in our cooperation with the free nations."

Defenseive Pact

The Japanese foreign minister also said that the agreement was purely defensive and bound Japan to take up no further obligations than she already has "such as requiring the dispatch of our safety forces overseas."

The exact amount or number of military items to be furnished is left unspecified. However, American military authorities are prepared to go as fast as the Japanese wish because Japanese forces must be stepped up sharply before any substantial American withdrawal.

damaging planes and blowing up gasoline storage depots.

Last Thursday morning rebels wrecked 12 transport planes at Gialam civil airport, five miles from Hanoi.

The attack at Catbi was made by khaki-uniformed Vietminh troops who got on the airfield by convincing the sentinels they were Vietnamese soldiers.

Their leader was described as "speaking perfect French."

Then the rebels rushed to put bombs, timed to go off in a few minutes, in the planes lined up on the runway. As explosions and fires swept the planes, the rebels opened fire on the airport guards.

The French Union patrols reported they had no losses but said, "Several of the Vietminh raiders were killed, wounded or captured."

The daring night raids on the strips are designed to smash as many as possible of the planes used in the vital airlifts taking troops and war supplies to the big Vietminh-encircled French outpost fortress at Dien Bien Phu, 180 miles west of Hanoi in northwest Indochina.

OWU Students Hear Governor Of Michigan

G. Mennen Williams Speaks at Institute Of Practical Politics

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—The governor of Michigan told Ohio Wesleyan University students today "the Republican party of 1954, whether it is in Lansing or in Washington, is the same old Republican party of conservatism and reaction."

Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams was the principal speaker at the university's "Democrat Recruitment Day" program.

The program, an annual affair, is part of the school's Institute of Practical Politics. Republican Recruitment Day was held last Monday.

National Leaders Present

State and national Democratic leaders were present for today's program, including Bryon G. Allen, Democratic national committeeman for Minnesota; Mrs. Bernice S. Pyke of Cleveland, president of the Ohio Democratic Women, and Mrs. Frank J. Lausche, wife of Ohio's governor.

"No political label ever tells accurately what is in the bottles," Gov. Williams told the students. "A party has within it room for wide latitudes of opinion and many shades of ideas.

"The fact that Eisenhower and McCarthy, Warren and Langer, are all Republicans, that Adlai Stevenson and James Byrnes, Hubert Humphrey and Allan Shivers are all Democrats is ample proof of this.

Democrats 'Liberals'

"But I do claim as a clear and indisputable fact that in 20th century politics the Democratic party has been consistently the liberal party and the Republican party has been consistently the conservative party.

Woodrow Wilson, Franklin Roosevelt and Harry Truman—the new freedom, the New Deal and the Fair Deal stand on one side. On the other stands Harding, Coolidge, Hoover and the Republican party of today which cannot decide whether it is the party of Eisenhower or the party of McCarthy."

Fire Damages Marion House

$50 Loss Reported In Gas Stove Blaze

A rubber hose connection to a gas stove which came loose caused a fire with an estimated $50 loss at the residence of George Taylor of 349 Olney Ave. Sunday.

Central station firemen who answered the alarm said the stove had been lit and it ignited gas escaping from the broken connection.

They reported Taylor had attempted to put the fire out before calling them at 12:37 p.m. but failed to extinguish it completely. A linoleum rug and a portion of the floor were burned, firemen said.

Central station firemen were called out again at 12:55 p.m. Sunday to the residence of Ray Jacoby at 333 S. Grand Ave., when the house filled with smoke. Firemen reported children in the house apparently dropped some wax crayons down a hot air pipe. There was no fire and no loss, they said.

At 8 a.m. today Central station firemen were called to flush away some gasoline spilled from a leaking automobile gas tank at Main and Center Sts.

Third Petition Filed in School District Dispute

A third petition asking the court to set aside transfer of Marion Local School district territory has been filed in Marion County Common Pleas Court.

Plaintiff is William R. Tracewell of near Marion, a taxpayer; principal defendent is the Marion County Board of Education. Tracewell thus joins the Marion Local Board of Education and Lowell H. Guthery of 451 Merchant Ave., another taxpayer, in asking that the transfer be set aside.

After hearing the previous petition, Judge J. S. McDevitt of Mt. Vernon granted a temporary injunction restraining further action by the County Board of Education in the redistricting.

The transfer last Feb. 9 called for part of the Marion Local district to go to Meeker and the rest to Marion City district. In order to effect the transfer to Meeker, portions of Green Camp and Morral districts had to be shifted to Meeker.

The Tracewell petition—essentially the same as the two previous ones—charged that the transfer was made only to readjust taxable valuations and did not in any way relate to the "educational comfort, health or welfare" of the children residing in the district. The petition asks the court to nullify the transfer.

Representing all three plaintiffs in these actions is the law firm of Guthery, Harmon, Conkle and Gracely.

Rings Stolen From Marion Jewelry Store

Burglary of Kerrey's Jewelry Store at 131 E. Center St. with theft of some $400 worth of rings was reported today by Marion police.

The burglary was reported to them at 4:31 a.m. Sunday by Charles Partlow of the rear of 485 Avondale Ave., a taxicab driver, who heard the burglar alarm ringing as he drove by.

Police Chief Thomas Coon said today that a rock had been used to break out a glass display window. He said it was first thought six rings valued at about $600 were taken from the window.

Charles F. Kerrey, owner of the jewelery store, said today he estimated the value of the rings at about $400 but said the exact amount could not be determined until all stock lists for merchandise in the window could be completely checked.

Mt. Holyoke Professor's Invention

'Thinking Machine' Built at College

SOUTH HADLEY, Mass. (AP) — A Mount Holyoke College philosophy professor today displayed his "thinking machine," which he says "is to logic what an adding machine is to arithmetic.

Prof. Roger W. Holmes built the machine for about $120 "plus labor."

He says it can solve practically any problem in a book on fundamental symbolic logic.

The machine, about the size of an old-fashioned table model radio, has a complex system of electrical relays which flashes lights on a control board.

If a proposition is valid a green light will flash. If it is invalid, a red light shows.

The professor sets up the questions with a series of symbols. He says the machine can't perform any function which a human operator couldn't do for himself with pencil and paper. But he claims it can tackle complex processes of reasoning with greater speed and accuracy.

He says the device can test the validity of the basic laws of logic. It also can explore the field for new principles, he says, and it can test whatever specific arguments are given it for examination.

He believes a larger model would be of great value in military or industrial planning or in crime detection.

Use Finally Found For 500 Cracked Table Tennis Balls

LOS ANGELES (AP)—It wasn't easy, but Milt Forrest has at last found a use for his collection of 500 cracked table tennis balls, which he calls the world's largest.

Forrest is a graduate student at the University of Southern California and an official of the Southern California Table Tennis Assn.

He began saving busted balls in the hope of finding a way to repair them cheaply. When he had no luck, he went to the chemistry department, which told him there was no way to fix them for less than the price of new ones.

Then he heard the chemists were on the lookout for tennis balls, which are larger.

He hastened to give them his prized store, because they were perfect for what the chemists wanted—balls to make models showing the structure of atoms.

Mother Who Lost Four Sons in War Killed in Accident

CLAY, W. Va. (AP)—A Clay County mother who drew the nation's sympathy when the fourth of her five soldier-sons died in service was killed last night in a highway accident near her home.

State police said Mrs. Florida A. Jones, 63, of nearby Bickmore, a widow, was struck by an automobile about 10 p.m. as she walked along State Route 16. She was dead when the ambulance reached Laird Memorial Hospital in Montgomery.

Only one of her five sons survives. He is Air Force Sgt. William L. Jones, who reportedly now is on recruiting duty in the Charleston area.

Three of her sons were killed during World War II.

Her youngest boy, Eugene, 25, crashed to his death in paratroop training at Ft.Benning, Ga., in 1950.

Two days later, the nation acknowledged its gratitude in a letter from Louis A. Johnson, then secretary of defense, offering the discharge of her fifth son from the Air Force.

Her simple refusal was:

"I am glad that I still have one son in the service of my country."

Marion Shades Jets 2-1 in Battle for Second Place

Seven Misconducts Called; Vejprava Notches 2 Goals

JOHNSTOWN — In a crucial battle for second place, Marion defeated Johnstown, 2-1, in a penalty-infested battle yesterday before 2,362 fans.

Seven misconduct penalties—six at one time following a second-period mob scene—were called by Referee Ron Hudson as the Barons hiked their runnerup lead over the Jets to three points.

Gordie Vejprava, the league's leading goal producer, fired home both tallies as the Ohio skaters picked up their 37th loop win as against 23 losses.

Marion took a 1-0 lead in the first six minutes. Phil Vitale, the giant-sized defenseman, grabbed a pass at the red circle from Dutch Delmonte and fired a blast that was kicked out by Jet Goalie Don Simmons. Vejprava was on the spot to slam home the rebound from three feet out.

There was no scoring but plenty of action in the second period. Don Hall was knocked to the ice and suffered a sprained shoulder. Coach Brenchley, not suited for the game, rushed to the ice to render first aid.

An exchange of words led to an exchange of fistcuffs as players from both benches rushed on the ice and a free-for-all ensued.

When the referee restored order, he handed out six misconduct penalties for players leaving the benches. Referee Hudson explained that it was a token penalty of three misconducts to each team with the team captain allowed to choose which three players would sit out the 10 minutes.

At 16:58, the Barons' Steve Brklacich was fined two minutes for holding. When teammate Vitale expressed his displeasure at the referee, he was tagged with a 10-minute misconduct. Another Baron, Ken Shultz, had retired from the game earlier in the period with a sprained ankle, so Marion had only one spare on the bench and was short one man on the ice.

But the Jets' couldn't crack the impregnable defense of the Barons until 9:41 of the third period, and then when the Hellermen were shorthanded.

Arnie Schmautz grabbed a loose puck at the losers' blue line and zoomed down on Goalie Lou Crowdis and bounced a blast off the net-tender's pads. Frazer "Killer" Kilpatrick came wheeling off the right red circle and slapped the bouncing rebound into the cords for a 1-1 tie.

Five minutes later Vejprava took a relay at center ice from Brklacich and sped down center ice unmolested. He easily outslicked Goalie Simmons from point-blank range for a 2-1 edge.

Both goalies, backed up by tight defenses, made a number of spectacular stops. Ron Castalane received a few stitches for a head wound in the first period. Hall, did not play after his second period injury. Schultz, one of the Barons leading scorers, was taken to the hospital with a sprained ankle and may be lost for the playoffs. Crowdis had his lip patched after a first-period scuffle near the Baron cage, in the roughly-played, fast-moving contest.

Marion has trimmed the jets in six of seven games this season.

Barons Need Win, Tie for Second Place

Marion's 2-1 win yesterday at Johnstown all but assured the Barons of finishing second in the International Hockey League race. The magic number for the Marion entry now stands a one and a half. A single win and a tie in their final four games will give the local crew the runner-up berths.

The playoffs between Marion and league - leading Cincinnati will open at the Mohawks' home ice next Tuesday with the second of the best of seven series set at the Coliseum on Wednesday, March 17. The third will be played Thursday at Cincinnati with the fourth to return here on Saturday, March 20. Should the seven games be necessary, the fifth and seventh would be played at Cincinnati with the sixth at Marion on Tuesday, March 23.

Marion fans received other good news today when the IHL office reported Lou Crowdis, popular net tender for the local club, would be eligible for play in the playoffs. Lou's eligibility had been questioned following action in a recent series for the Cleveland Barons.

The Barons will wind up their season with four games this week. They will be at home Wednesday night against the Troy Bruins and Friday night in a rescheduled game against the Louisville Shooting Stars. Saturday night they travel to Grand Rapids for their road finale and ring down the curtain on the regular season here next Sunday against the Johnstown club.

Hockey Appreciation night will be featured at the Troy game Wednesday night.

Prior to the game at 8:10, broom ball teams from the 20-30 club and the Junior Chamber of Commerce will meet on the ice. Teams from the Y Men's Club and the Marion Lions will tangle during the intermission between the first and second and during the final intermission a team composed of Rotary Club members will battle the Kiwanis Club group.

Following the game, free skating will be held until midnight.

Top Teams Still Seeking State Crown

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's sports editors did a pretty good job picking the state's high school basketball talent in last week's final Associated Press poll.

Although 205 of the state's 287 Class A team were eliminated in last week's sectional tournaments, 9 of the top 10 in the poll are still on deck.

Only Ashland, rated third with a 19-1 record, was ousted — the Shelby prides of Coach Charley Williams upsetting Cloyce Taylor's powerhouse 68-62 in the semi-finals at Marion.

With only 92 of the 781 Class B starters having survived county and sectional eliminations, 8 of the top 10 choices in that division are still in the race. The only victims were West Mansfield's seventh place club, which bowed out after winning 20 in a row, and ninth-place Seven Mile, which had sported a 20-1 record before losing to Cincinnati Deporres.

The Class A clubs swing into district play this week, but have some loose ends to clean up—as do the Class B quintets.

Mansfield 16-5 and Shelby 11-5 meet tonight at Marion to fill out the 6-team district meet at Toledo, while only 5 of the 14-team Class A district at Kent have been selected.

The others will come from snow-delayed sectionals at Kent, Euclid, Cleveland, Berea and East Cleveland. A meeting of the Northeastern district board of control was scheduled today to determine whether to split the Kent meet into two or more district events to select the area's seven regional qualifiers.

Single regional representatives will emerge from this week's Class A district play at Columbus, Martins Ferry, Athens, Dayton, Cincinnati and Troy, with three from Toledo.

Class B district play will send three regional qualifiers from the Kent district, which is awaiting undecided representatives from the Ashtabula, Chagrin Falls and Lorain sections, and one each from Westerville, Columbus, Brilliant, Zanesville, Celina, Whitehouse, Tiffin, Mansfield, Athens, Waverly, Cincinnati, Xenia and Springfield.

Top record Class A squads still in the fight for the state title Middletown won the last two years include: Niles 23-0, Tecumseh 20-0, Columbus North 20-1, Gallipolis 19-1, Greenfield 19-1, Bellefontaine 14-1 and Middletown 18-2.

Election Held

Ohio Sportsmen Hit Plan For Water Fluoridation

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Fluoridation of public water supplies—reportedly beneficial to teeth — has been protested by the League of Ohio Sportsmen.

The group, closing its annual meeting in Columbus yesterday, adopted a resolution "vigorously opposing the introduction of flouride or any other poisonous substance into public waters . . . until it has been positively established that such deliberate medication . . . can not be in injurious. . . ."

The league also adopted a resolution calling for reduction of the minimum age for obtaining a fishing license from 18 to 16 years and setting up a committee to collaborate with Indiana, Illinois and other states in making recommendations for duck season changes to the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Re-elected officers are Ira L. Porter, Oberlin, president; Glenn Montgomery, Zanesville, vice president, and Ben Drayer, Columbus, treasurer.

Shelby Clips Ashland, Meets Mansfield for Title Tonight

By GARY SAMS

Its Mansfield, 16-5, against Shelby, 11-5, in the championship game of the Class A Sectional Basketball Tournament on the Coliseum floor tonight at 8 p.m.

Both qualified for the finals Saturday when a fired up Shelby quintet out-played top-seeded Ashland 68-62 and Mansfield trimmed Bucyrus 68-38.

State-ranked Ashland, which wound up with an 18-2 mark, was never in the game after Don Bucknam sunk a charity toss at the 3:58 mark of the second period for a 27-26 Whippet lead.

Sidle Slowed

Ken Sidle, Ashland's 6-5 rebounder and scorer, was guilty of the total — his third — and he was promptly lifted by Coach C. E. Taylor. With the tall Arrow center out, Shelby pulled ahead 38-32 at intermission behind the rebounding and scoring of Lowell Jarrell, 6-1, Bucknam, 6-1, and Nick Davies, 6-2.

Shelby maintained its pace during the second half, building up seven, six and five-point leads late in the third period which it maintained for the rest of the way.

throw shoved Shelby ahead 47-41 second half and kept the A's in the game until he fouled out late in the third quarter. His eight points pulled Ashland within 41-43 of Shelby before he committed his fourth personal. Dick Cecil sunk a first of his two foul shots and when Bucknam refounded the second one at the 3:04 mark, Sidle was charged with his fifth personal on the play. Cecil's free throw shoved Shelby aead 47-41 and closest Ashland could come after that was 53-49 on a rebound shot by Larry Brewer early in the final stanza.

Ahead 51-45 starting the final quarter, Shelby went into a cautious style of play, setting up only almost sure scores, and rushed ahead 65-54 to insure the victory.

Shelby wound up hitting on 25 of 62 attempts from the field while Ashland connected on 19 of 55 shots.

Jarrell and Bucknam paced the Whippet offense with 20 points each while Davies added 15 and Wincel Ingram chipped in with 11. Sidle led Ashland scoring with 18 markers while Jim Dilgard contributed 16 and Max Messner added 14.

The A's began the contest as expected, pulling out front 13-4 before the redhot Whippets came to life. A Whippet scoring splurge shoved Shelby ahead 17-13 before Ashland took the lead and held it until the winners tied the score at 26-26 and went aead for keeps.

Swank, Tinkey Lead

Two Mansfield giants, 6-5 George Swank and 6-4 Phil Tinkey, plus Bucyrus' inability to hit accounted for the lopsided Tyger win over the Redmen.

They accounted for 37 of Mansfield's points, with Swank netting 20.

The game actually wasn't as bad as the final score indicated. Bucyrus, which hit on but 10 of 58 field goal attempts, had tough luck all night on its shots which just seemed to bounce out of the basket on every attempt. Mansfield, meanwhile, was hitting on 28 of 66 shots from the floor, 13 of 25 the first half.

Only one minute was left in the opening quarter when Glen Butterman, Bucyrus' all time scorer, sunk the first Redman field goal. A spurt in the final minute left Bucyrus trailing 15-7 at the quarter. Mansfield held a halftime lead of 32-14 and three quarter bulge of 47-23.

The loss concluded Bucyrus' season at 11-7.

Butterman led the Bucyrus offense with 12 points, hitting on exactly half the Redman field goals. Jerry Weithman and Fred Frey each added eight points.

Ebert Selected For Berth on Honor Squads

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP)—Height, heft and shooting skill prevails on the 1954 All-Big Ten basketball team selected today for The Associated Press by conference coaches.

Indiana's newly-crowned champion Hoosiers grabbed two berths, Illinois, Ohio State and Minnesota one apiece.

The two Hoosiers, 6-10 - Don Schlundt and 6-3 Bob Leonard, repeated from last season's honor team. Strangely, however, All-America Schlundt was not a unanimous choice.

Schlundt missed three first team votes, while Leonard was No. 1 choice of all 10 coaches, the only player so honored.

Rounding out the team are Johnny Kerr, Illinois' 6-9 scoring machine; Ohio State's agile Paul Ebert, 6-4, and Dick Garmaker, 6-3, of Minnesota.

Only one coach failed to name Kerr to the first team. Ebert missed 2 first team votes and Garmaker 3.

With the exception of Leonard, the team represents the first four finishers in individual conference scoring.

Schlundt last year set the conference's 18-game scoring record of 459 and repeated a record-breaker this year by topping the conference with 379 points for 14 games. This is a per-game average of 27.1 points.

Kerr was second in scoring with 362 points and a 25.9 average, Garmaker third with 345 and 24.6 and Ebert fourth with 321 and 22.9. Leonard ranked ninth in individual scoring with 237 points and a 16.9 average.

The second team had Carl Cain of Iowa and Julius McCoy of Michigan State at forwards; Frank Ehmann, Northwestern, at center; and Robin Freeman, Ohio State, and Charles Mencel, Minnesota, at guards.

Larkins To Give Address At Baker Athletic Dinner

DICK LARKINS
Will Speak Thursday

Dick Larkins, athletic director at Ohio State University, will be guest speaker Thursday night at Eber Baker Junior High School's athletic banquet.

The event will be held in the Harding High School cafeteria and Coach Don Zeisler will award letters to members of his football and basketball teams.

Larkins, a former star athlete at Ohio State, will speak on his experiences then and in his present capacity as supervisor of the 15 varsity sports program and the physical education setup at the OSU campus.

A nauve of East Liverpool, Larkins was graduated from Ohio State in 1937 with a bachelor's degree in business administration. An honor student during his career as a pupil, Larkins won the Big Ten medal for combined excellence in scholarship and athletics.

As an athlete, he won six varsity letters, three each in football and basketball. He served as president of his senior class and was a member of Bucket and Dipper and Sphinx, junior and senior men's honorary societies. He is also a member of Phi Delta Theta Fraternity and currently is a member of the Kiwanis and Masonic organizations. During World War II, he served as a lieutenant in the Navy an dreturned to the campus in 1944 after 14 months service.

Larkins assumed the post as athletic director on July 1, 1947 and has won a host of friends since that time. Despite the fact, he is one of the youngest directors in the Big Ten, he has been named to some of its most important committees. He serves with the committee in the revision of rules and regulations and also with the group which studies future Rose Bowl pacts between the Big Ten and Pacific Coast Conference as well as a committee in the controversial television question.

The banquet is scheduled to get under way at 6:30.

CAR GETS HYDRAULIC LIFT. The tremendous water pressure of a broken fire plug holds this auto suspended in the air after the car clipped off the hydrant at Los Angeles, Calif. The driver, Jean Reiser, swerved to avoid hitting another automobile, and the next thing she knew her car was way up there. She climbed out wet but not injured. After a few moments the car settled down and straddled the plug. An hour later the car was thrown violently on its side by surging water when a tow truck attempted to move it.

Cleveland Group Continues Fighting For K of C Charter

CLEVELAND (AP) — A Cleveland group which includes Negroes is taking its demand for a Knights of Columbus charter to Archbishop Amleto Giovanni Cigognani, official representative in the United States of Pope Pius XII.

The interracial group voted yesterday to inform the Vatican's apostolic delegate at Washington of their demands and ask that he "bring his influence to bear in having all qualified Catholics, regardless of race, integrated into the now-existing K. of C. councils."

It was not explained what the archbishop could do.

Three Negroes were denied membership last year in the Cleveland Council of the K. of C.

After that the interracial organization was formed but was denied a charter by the K. of C.'s Supreme Council on the grounds it was a racial group.

Auxiliary Bishop Floyd L. Begin of the Catholic Diocese of Cleveland spoke against both the "blackballing" of the Negroes who attempted to join the Cleveland Council and the refusal of the Supreme Council to grant a charter.

He told a reporter Saturday, however, "I don't think I can do any more about it," adding, "I've put the church on record."

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery
Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to stop bleeding—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form for hemorrhoids under the name Preparation H.® The price is only 98¢ a tube including an applicator. The name to ask for is Preparation H—at all drug stores. And remember—if not entirely satisfied—your money will be refunded promptly. ®Trade Mark

Radio and Television

By John Crosby

The Screen's First First Lady

Mary Pickford, one of the all-time immortals of the films, has been in town for a while and it seemed like a good idea to ask her about this slimy new medium—television. She's been on it only a couple of times—at an Academy Awards ceremony, some bond drives she couldn't avoid — and a quiz show and she's very much opposed to appearing live.

J. CROSBY

She feels the public's mental image of a celebrity should be protected as a sacred duty. No Pickford film has ever been on TV and none will be either. She doesn't want the Mary of yesterday competing with today's standards.

But the 60-year-old Mary has got a lot of firm ideas about television, nevertheless. For one thing, she thinks there's a great deal of acting talent around that isn't being used. She thinks TV has got to scour the country for it, though, the way the movies did.

"THEY SHOULD BE scouring the highways and byways, even grammar schools. But you need really able scouts to find people. Who would have picked Will Rogers or Marie Dressler from their looks? It's like a book you haven't read when you just look at a person's face. Young actresses used to ask me if I thought they'd be good in movies and I'd say, 'I don't know. I haven't read you yet.' "

She feels that experienced scouts with the ability to recognize talent ought to be sent out to look behind the soda fountains and in elevators for promising youngsters rather than, as is the present case, waiting for the talent to come to TV.

She thinks that today's young people are able to see the finest in plays and movies and so have developed appreciation and the ability to express themselves far beyond the point that was possible in her own day. The kids, she thinks, are ready. But somebody has to go look for them.

IT'S A NICE optimistic thought and I hope she's right. This is a great big country and yet the sources of talent are still New York and Hollywood. You have to be in one of those citadels of show business — or you don't exist. Anyone with ambition for show business heads for New York or Hollywood. But a lot of others who have perhaps no ambition but have got talent, or have both talent and ambition but no money, stay home.

By talent, I rather think Miss Pickford is speaking of personality, which is a form of talent too little appreciated. I recall that outspoken Hungarian, Michael Curtiz, who has been a movie director in Hollywood since the Spaniards owned it, telling me that talent without a vivid personality would get you nowhere in films. If you had the personality, it would be nice if you had talent too. But it wasn't necessary, as one of Mr. Curtiz's discoveries, Errol Flynn, has repeatedly demonstrated.

I DOUBT THAT THERE'S any one of us who has not seen a waitress who was not more captivating than some of the Hollywood products. Conversely, it's a little dismaying to see the expensive training lavished on some of the wierdest raw material in order to teach it how to walk and talk when you know there's a girl down the street who can walk and talk very well without lessons.

At Pickfair, Miss Pickford and her husband, Buddy Rogers watch television on a custom - built set with a 30 - inch screen, which when pulled out, becomes 40 inches. Between the tube and the screen, there is a compartment containing five gallons of oil. This gives a third dimensional effect. The set is so good, Miss Pickford claims, that movies made 25 years ago look brand new. There are only about 100 such sets in existence.

What did the film's first First Lady think of television drama? "It's like the little girl with the curl. When she is good, she is very very good. When she is bad, she is horrid."

Burke Addresses Jaycees in Akron

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Sen. Thomas A. Burke (D-Ohio) urged a reduction in excise taxes and an increase in personal income tax exemptions yesterday as a means of improving business.

The senator, speaking before an Ohio Junior Chamber of Commerce meeting, said since a year ago the number of persons covered by insurance who have become unemployed has tripled.

"Insured unemployment has more than tripled in the past year —right now standing at 113,000 Ohioans—and I regret to say that their numbers are on the rise," he said.

Reducing excise taxes and increasing exemptions would "Automatically left our economy from its present temporary slack by increasing the consumption of goods, he said.

Unique

THERE are certain services which are expected of a funeral director when he is serving a family We, like all other funeral firms, perform these services, but we try to go much further than these basic requirements; we try to make every Schaffner-Denzer service unique in that we perform various special services for the family They may be small and relatively unimportant, but they are tremendously appreciated.

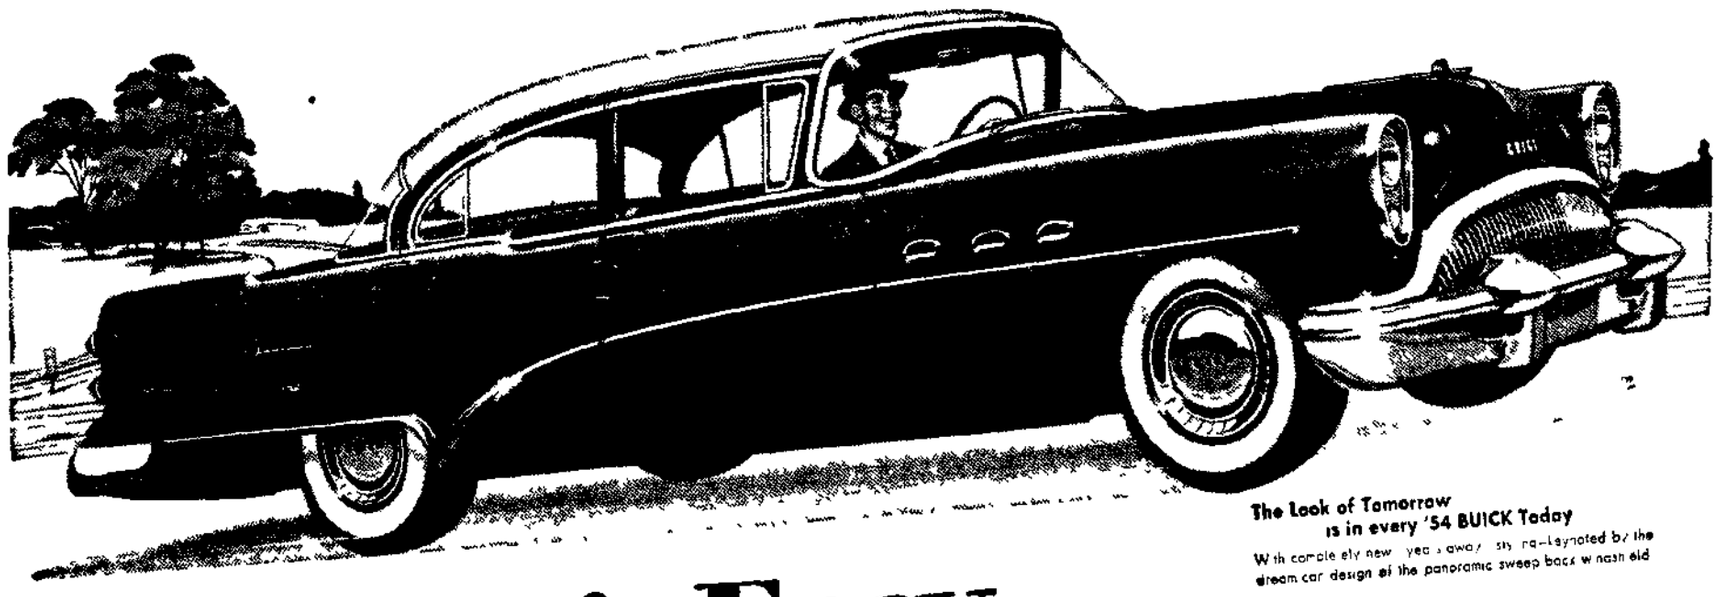
Marion, Ohio — "A Buick Town"



The Look of Tomorrow is in every '54 BUICK Today

With completely new year-away styling-keynoted by the dream car design of the panoramic sweep back windshield

Take it Easy
you don't have to prove a thing!

LET'S be sensible about this subject of horsepower.

An all-American tackle doesn't go around tackling people in everyday life.

A world-record sprinter doesn't have to demonstrate his prowess on city sidewalks.

The better you are, the less you have to prove it.

And that's how it is with a Buick CENTURY.

Of course it's a spectacular performer—a car with instantly responsive action. It has to be, for it combines a high-compression 200-horsepower V8 engine with a nimble weight of only 3866 pounds as it comes off the assembly line.

That's a power-to-weight ratio that chalks up a new record—a ratio that no other Buick has ever reached before.

It can spin your wheels on a dry pavement if you give it the gun, but why waste rubber?

If some show-off wants to get the jump on you at a traffic light, why not let him have fun? He isn't kidding anyone but himself, when the name on your car is CENTURY.

The real pride of owning such a car is simply this: You know so well what it can do that you never have to prove it.

That lets you enjoy the tireless ease of its gait in ordinary driving, when only a fraction of its eager power is working. It gives you a quick reserve for breasting a hill—and the happy knowledge that there's still more to come in a sudden emergency.

Sure, this is more power than most people really have to have. But you can hardly call it extravagant, when you are buying more horsepower per dollar in a CENTURY than you get in any other car in America.

Safety Devices Help Protect Firemen

By CHARLES L. MARTIN

Fighting fires has never been a bed of roses. City firemen are continually faced with the danger of burns, smoke exhaustion, falling timbers and the like.

Added to these "normal" occupational hazards are some "unusual" dangers which firemen must face, according to Fire Chief Owen A. Sifritt. Among them are electric shock, poisonous gases, traffic accidents on the way to fires, and explosions in burning buildings.

IN THE MAIN, firemen are equipped with safety devices which help protect them from both the usual and the unusual hazards.

The heavy fireproof helmet worn by nearly all firemen is protection for head and shoulders against falling debris, water, and so on. A heavy rubberized coat further protects the wearer from sparks and heat of the flames. Rubber boots also help insulate firemen from electric shock.

This protection is needed, particularly when firemen are shooting streams of water on fires near high voltage electric wires. With enough voltage behind it, electricity can travel down a stream of water and jolt the fireman at the nozzle strong enough to knock him out or kill him.

To combat this menace, Marion firemen use a special spray type nozzle to break the water up into a mist which is a poor electrical conductor. They also use carbon dioxide on electrical fires.

ONE OF THE unusual dangers for which there is no real protection, but which continues to grow because of widespread use of natural gas for heating and cooking, is that of explosion — particularly in houses.

An accidentally broken gas line in a closed basement or other room in a burning house could result in a serious explosion and injury to firemen. Chief Sifritt points out this is no condemnation of the use of natural gas, but merely one of the dangers of the job.

Another is the use of home fire extinguishers using a carbon tetrachloride solution. When this liquid hits a flame, the heat releases phosgene gas, one of the deadly gases used in World War I. To combat this menace firemen long ago discontinued use of such extinguishers and advise home owners to use them only sparingly, if at all, and only in well ventilated places.

Although often called "smoke-eaters," firemen like other men can breathe only so much smoke and poisonous gases before being overcome. For this reason the at the Mark St. station for use at fires outside the city.

OTHER SAFETY devices used by the department are an inhalator to revive firemen overcome by smoke, first aid kits, and a smoke exhauster. This is a device attached to one of the Central station fire trucks which acts as a huge vacuum pump to suck smoke from a burning building.

All these devices help protect firemen while they are actually fighting a fire. But what of the danger of collisions on the way to a fire?

Best safety measure here is the use of modern fire trucks equipped with the best possible brakes and in good repair at all times, Chief Sifritt says.

Most Marion fire trucks are in this category. The newest, housed at the Mark St. station, was purchased in 1947. It "can stop on a dime," says Capt. George F. Fetter. Braking power is supplied by four - wheel vacuum - hydraulic brakes combined with dual rear wheels. The truck also is built low to give it added stability. Safety of the driver and firemen is further insured by an enclosed cab in which they ride. Weighing approximately eight tons, this truck like most others in the department carries a 200-gallon water supply and can pump water at 750 gallons a minute.

FIREMEN at the W. Center St. station do not have it so good. There, the lone truck is a 1927 model pumper which weighs eight tons. Equipped with only two-wheel brakes on single tire rear wheels "it takes a full city block to stop it at 40 miles an hour," according to driver, David E. Strobel.

The steering wheel and other driving controls are on the right. Driving it requires a strong, long-armed man. To shift gears, the driver must grasp a three - foot long lever rising from the right side of the truck and move it some three feet from first to second gear and another three feet back into high gear.

Adding to the danger is a gasoline tank which is placed directly behind the seats occupied by the firemen.

These are some of the reasons firemen at the station dislike the truck. In fact, the only good word they have for it is the capacity of its pump which is 1,000 gallons of water a minute. The truck carries a small 80-gallon supply of water.

OLD AND NEW MARION fire department equipment is compared here.

UPPER: An outdated 1927 model pumper truck housed at the W. Center St. station along side an old model maintenance truck. The pumper truck weighs eight tons and requires a full city block to stop at 40 miles an hour. On the truck are Capt. Merle V. Zieg and driver David E. Strobel. Standing by the maintenance truck is John T. Ganoe, mechanic.

LOWER: Fire Chief Owen A. Sifritt shows how an oxygen canister is used in a new type gas mask placed in service in the Marion fire department. Good for 45 minutes' continuous use, the oxygen mask was originally developed for use as a mine safety appliance. Behind the mask here is James Bradshaw of the Central station.

fire department is equipped with two types of gas masks.

ONE TYPE IS the so-called all purpose mask which filters smoke and gases out of the air the wearer breathes. This works fine in most instances if there is sufficient oxygen in the air. There are at least two of these masks on each piece of fire fighting equipment in Marion.

The other type mask is slightly more complex but offers much more all around protection. It is the self-contained oxygen mask which has a supply of oxygen carried in a throw-away canister and good for about 45 minutes' continuous use. A relatively new type mask, it was developed as a mine safety appliance and is now coming into popular use by firemen. The city has two of them at each city fire station. In addition, plans call for Marion Township trustees to provide two more

State Sales Tax Chief Is Stamp Collecting Champ

By BILL TERRY

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — No one disputes the claim of J. E. Williams that he's the biggest stamp collector in Ohio, and possibly in the country.

Others collect more rare stamps, and more valuable ones. Williams specializes in the one with which every Ohio resident is familiar—the Ohio sales tax stamp.

Head Tax Division

Williams is head of the sales tax division of the Ohio Department of Taxation and has his headquarters at 68 E. Gay St. in downtown Columbus. To that office come the millions of sales tax religious and charitably organizations redeem yearly.

Right now the stamps are coming in almost faster than Williams' staff can process them. He says that's usual for this time of the year.

Ohio vendors last year issued $184,110,463 in sales tax stamps. Of this amount, 77 per cent or $142,469,707 in canceled stamps came back to the state. The tax office during the year paid out $4,274,091 for the stamps to religious and charitable organizations.

Individuals can turn in canceled stamps for cash if they can show they helped collect the sales tax they represent. So few individuals do.

The law approving redemptions was passed to make people demand their sales tax stamps when buying things to prevent vendors from cheating the government by not giving out stamps. The state says the money it has spent in redeeming canceled stamps has been more than offset by increased sales stamp sales this policing policy has made possible.

Weighed 420 Tons

During the last fiscal year the state sold 1,681,845,108 individual stamps, which put in one bundle would weigh 420 tons.

And with 77 per cent of the stamps being brought back for redemption, this means Williams' office over a year's time collected and paid redemptions on 1,294,986,000 individual stamps.

The stamps come in faster than Williams could paste them in albums, should he be so inclined Once a week they are put in bags and hauled to the Ohio Penitentiary where they are ground up That's so no one can turn them in a second time for cash.

Right now the number on hand has broken through the boundaries of the redemption room and there are stamps all over the place.

The state sold 11 per cent more stamps last year than in 1953, but redemptions ran 30 per cent higher. Williams says there's a good reason for this.

During last year's legislative session, there was talk about the state doing away with redemptions. So organizations gathered all the stamps they could find and turned them in without delay. Some of the stamps had been issued the year before.

An organization has to have at least $100 worth of stamps, face value, to get cash from the state. The rate is $3 for each $100 worth.

Bucyrus Lions Complete Check of Pupils' Seeing

The examinations were conducted by three Bucyrus optometrists under the sponsorship of the Bucyrus Lions Club.

School Supt. I. J. Miller said eye defects were discovered in 38 per cent of the pupils tested, excluding 55 children in the two grades who are already wearing glasses.

The parents were notified by card when sight defects were discovered but are in no way compelled to take corrective action, Supt. Miller pointed out.

Baker School Head Writes For Magazine

Articles by Clark M Fouts, principal of Eber Baker Junior High School appeared in the February and March issues of The Bulletin, publication of the National Association of Secondary-School Principals.

"The Role of the Junior High School Principal in the Guidance Program" is the title of the first article and the March issue carries the Marion school man's interpretation of "Trends in the Junior High School Program"

Listed as adequate in a junior high school guidance program are a system of cumulative records for all pupils, an orientation program, provision for individual counseling, educational guidance, vocational guidance and occupational information social guidance through a program of co-curricular activities and the use of certain tests to determine interests and aptitudes.

Among the steps to be taken by the principal are the establishing of a program which would benefit both teaching staff and pupil, interesting the parent in the program from the standpoint of community interest and adapting the program to the school.

The background of the junior high school and its program and the change in the philosophy of American education introduce the March article. Other topics, brought out in the discussion are "Types of Curriculums," "Initiating and Developing the Integrated Program," and reasons for and against the integrated program. The article brings out that the integrated programs for junior high school is growing year by year and that pupil-centered programs are appearing with increasing frequency on programs of professional organizations in workshop discussions, literature and in the offerings of the teacher training institutions The trend, it is pointed out, seems to stem directly from a recognition of the increased responsibility of the schools for citizenship training.

John Jones was amazed when we presented the results of our insurance survey to him.

"Why did I have so many duplications, overlaps, and downright gaps in my insurance program?" he asked. I thought I was well protected."

Earl J. Andrews

"We were surprised, too," I replied, "because you did have lots of policies."

"However, the basic fault probably was that the policies had just been acquired one by one over the years without too much regard for how they fit together. It's easy to do. You hear of some big loss, and buy a policy to cover it. Then you think of another risk, and order another policy. Gradually, duplications and gaps appear."

Mr. Jones grinned. "You're right," he said, "like Topsy, my insurance program just grew."

"We can eliminate the gaps, do away with the overlaps, and give your program proper planning," I said.

"And the cost?" Mr. Jones asked.

"Very little more than you're now paying," I replied.

Donors Needed for Bloodmobile Visit

ONE OF THE IMPORTANT committees of the Marion County Red Cross Chapter is the blood program committee headed by Melvin G. Weston. Their duties include recruiting volunteers, providing quarters, and publicizing the program.

Members of the committee are: seated left to right: Miss Irene Reynolds, Mrs. E. G. Siefert, Melvin G. Weston, chairman, Mrs. J. H. Harmon, Mrs. James A. Gast. Standing, left to right: Wendell Strong, Bovie Morgan, Charles Osterholt, Dr. James A. McGlew. Not present were Mrs. John P. Courtright and Robert S. Kraner.

Donors are needed for the two-day visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile Unit here Wednesday and Thursday, Weston said today.

The unit will be at the First Presbyterian Church from 11:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Wednesday and 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Thursday. Thursday has been designated as Rural Day when residents of the towns, villages and rural communities have been asked to volunteer a pint of blood.

To avoid long waiting, it is best to make an appointment by calling the chapetr office, 2-1653 and telling what is the most convenient time to make a voluntary contribution.

There is a two-way benefit to giving a pint of blood Weston said. In addition to helping someone in need, it is a satisfaction to know your particular type of blood is recorded and that if there were a need, there would be no delay in ascertaining the type of blood to be used when minutes meant life or death, he said.

The quota for each day is 150 pints if Marion County meets its share of the program. An average of 100 pints of blood per month is provided without charge to the Marion City Hospital.

Adults between the ages of 18 and 59 years may donate blood. Volunteers between the ages of 18 and 21, unless married or members of the armed forces, will need a parental release. Blanks may be had at the local Red Cross Chapter office.

Communism Not Illegal

Defense Secretary Wilson has put his finger on a problem about Communism which many of us ignore.

The Communist party has not been outlawed. Communism is not illegal. Although the party no longer appears on ballots under its right name and its members no longer carry cards and appear on official registration rolls, the move which was started in Congress in the late forties to outlaw the Communist conspiracy never was finished.

Secretary Wilson says this is the major difficulty for the future. The Defense Department cannot bar Communists from service lest draft-dodgers use that as an excuse to dodge their obligation. Yet if it takes them into service on the assumption they are subject to the same regulations and practices as all other citizens it gets into the difficulties being spotlighted by Sen. McCarthy.

Under the Internal Security Act, it is unlawful to conceal membership in Communist organizations when "seeking" government employment. But men drafted for military service are not asking for jobs; they are ordered to perform a duty. There is nothing which would bar them from service, though it is not to be expected they would be given duties of a sensitive or confidential nature.

Secretary Wilson seems to be suggesting to Congress that if it doesn't want Communists in the armed services in the future it will have to outlaw them, something it never has done.

Old-Fashioned Remedy

One of the shrewdest and most respected commentators on business trends is Henry H. Heimann, executive vice president of the National Association of Credit Men.

His proposed "remedy" for what ails the United States, which he contends is nothing more serious than the headache after a war-boom spree, is so much different from the political remedies being proposed it deserves a second look.

"There is only one way for the government to bail us out and that is by fewer government activities," he declares. "There should be less government cost, less government interference, less government harassment and less government regulation."

This would be the remedy prescribed for the republic by other wise men who have suggested it needs a "good lettin' alone." Heimann makes it clear that when Washington fools around with hypodermic injections to ease the pain of readjustment it is only putting off the benefits which will grow out of readjustment.

The enterprise system did not prove its merit in the United States by being jabbed incessantly with hypodermic needles. It went through periods of letdowns, buildups, peaks, valleys and sideways movements. It survived because it kept looking ahead instead of waiting for another palliative from Washington.

Fortunately, few ordinary citizens know or care about depreciation charges, interest rates, monetary standards and the other "cure-alls" which government is ready to jab into th ena which government is ready to jab into the na

Most ordinary citizens are enjoying a buyers' market. They are optimistic. They are in no mood to be talked into economic hypochondria by anybody. They share Heimann's confidence in the old-fashioned remedy of giving the national economy a "good lettin' alone."

Too Much Executive Law

The chances are ten to one the spokesmen for labor unions will obey their usual impulse to defend the National Labor Relations Board against House Labor Committee's decision to trim its judicial power.

This is one time when the spokesmen should think twice and defend something else instead. NLRB has made and enforced too much executive law in its time. Anything which trims its power to be policeman, prosecutor and judge, all lumped into one agency of appointive members, is a move in the right direction.

Its present members have no wish to be held responsible for power that no executive agency of the government ever should have. Their hope for the NLRB is that it may live down its reputation for one-sidedness.

In the past it abused its power in favor of labor unions according to the likes and dislikes of its own members, some of whom had no visible qualifications to represent Americans.

In the future, it could abuse the same power to plunge the dagger of administrative law into the labor unions, if the power fell into the hands of Americans who wanted to destroy unions.

By diverting some of this power into the federal courts, Congress could keep NLRB from doing in some future circumstances what it did when its biased members made certain the CIO got the benefit of every doubt in every case which came before it for investigation, prosecution or judgment.

No agency of the New Deal ever did more damage to the principle that government should be the referee, not a contestant.

GOP Strategy Problems

By James Marlow

Harmony Needed To Retain Congress Control

WASHINGTON

Republicans lie awake nights, thinking rain on the roof sounds like ballots dropping in a box, it's because they have problems. The usual kind, plus some.

The usual kind: convincing November's voters they've done dandy in the ordinary affairs of government, including handling a recession, and should be re-elected to control of Congress two more years.

The plus some: the conflict between Sen. McCarthy and the Eisenhower administration. If it breaks into open war, McCarthy and the party both face possible losses in November.

The Republicans might lose to the Democrats if President Eisenhower broke openly with the Wisconsin Republican and the party split into Eisenhower and McCarthy factions.

ADLAI STEVENSON suggested Saturday night, however, that if Eisenhower did break with the senator his administration would have had the "grateful and dedicated support" of all but a "tiny and deluded minority.")

If McCarthy and the President should break and the Democrats take over Congress, McCarthy would lose chairmanship of the investigating subcommittee which has brought him headlines and power.

To make the problem extra-plus: if the conflict continues without a real break, the Republicans may emerge from November beaten up. One interparty crisis after another could leave the voters fed up.

REPUBLICAN DEFEAT this year would mean Eisenhower would have to depend on a Democratic-run Congress to put over his program for the two remaining years of his term or watch the Democrats ram through their own program.

At any rate, two years of control in Congress would give the Democrats the means and time for laying the groundwork for a combined congressional and presidential victory in 1956.

As chairman, with a staff at his command paid by the taxpayers, McCarthy can make his own investigations. He runs the show. Losing the chairmanship might not be too hard on him. He did pretty well before he had it.

But the possibility of his losing the chairmanship in November has raised questions about his performance. For instance: would he be willing to force an issue with Eisenhower and a break, even though it cost him the chairmanship and his party control of Congress?

IF THERE IS ever an answer to that it may also provide answers to questions about his ambitions. The current speculation about what McCarthy wants can be reduced essentially to three points of view:

1. He has no ambition beyond wanting to be a good senator. Being a good one means for him, right now, routing out any Communists still in the government and exposing anyone who is "soft" on them. He feels so deeply the rightness of his job he will not backtrack for anyone, no matter what the consequences to him or the party.

2. What he really wants is control of the Republican party. He's a Roman Catholic and knows the tradition: no Catholic has ever been president. Therefore, he has no presidential ambitions. But as party head he could make or break presidents. That would make him the most powerful man in the country. A Republican loss in November, and his loss of the chairmanship, wouldn't hurt him; he could use the next two years to rally Republican support around him and away from Eisenhower.

3. He doesn't know what he wants. He was an unknown until 1950. That year he made a speech declaring there were Communists in the State Department and suddenly found himself the center of attraction. He found he could ride that subject to fame and power. And he has. He has no long-range plan. What he wants is power, or the sense of power, so badly and he wants headlines so hungrily that he'll blindly risk smashing the party to get his way and his name in headlines.

Not any one of those three speculations about McCarthy may prove right. No matter what his ambition, the fact is: every time he's reached a crisis with the administration, he has let it be followed by a brief cooling-off period. Then, zowie. He was back again.

McCarthy Projected Into Maine Primary

By Jay G. Hayden

While Sen. McCarthy almost hourly is producing some new convulsion on the Washington governmental front, events in Maine are shaping up for what may be the first 1954 test of his influence at the congressional election polls.

Robert L. Jones, close on the heel of his separation from the staff of Sen. Potter for the seeming reason that he was too deferential to McCarthy's views, has announced his candidacy for Republican nomination for the Maine senatorial seat now occupied by Margaret Chase Smith. The primary, in which this contest will be decided, occurs June 21.

Jones' departure from Potter's service was at least hastened by the disclosure that, after sitting in as an observer for his boss during the examination of Brig. Gen. Zwicker by McCarthy, Jones issued a statement seeming to speak for Potter. There are indications also that a discovery that his office was being used as a headquarters for preparation of a campaign against Senator Smith entered into Potter's decision to get rid of Jones.

THE LATTER has said that "left-wing elements" opposed to his senatorial candidacy are "fearful of a showdown in Maine between the forces of Americanism and international liberalism."

Mrs. Smith may merit the brand of "internationalist liberal" in that she has conspicuously supported the Marshall Plan, North Atlantic Defense and other measures in aid of foreign nations, but no one up to now has challeneged her stalwart Americanism.

She has clashed sharply with Sen. McCarthy. In May, 1950, she emerged as leader and spokesman for a group of seven Republican senators who issued a so-called "Declaration of Conscience" which, while not naming McCarthy, plainly was aimed at his methods.

"We are Republicans," the pronunciamento declared, "but we are Americans first." It accused "certain elements" of hoping to ride the party to victory "Through the selfish political exploitation of fear, bigotry, ignorance and intolerance."

Following that speech, Maine's lady senator criticized the Truman and Roosevelt administrations for "complacency" toward Communism, but asserted that this was no adequate excuse for 'character assassination . . . trial by accusation . . . and political smears."

THE OTHER signers of the Declaration of Conscience were Senators Ives, Tobey, Aiken, Hendrikson, Thye and Morse.

McCarthy retaliated by using his power as ranking Republican member of the Committee on Government Operations to oust Mrs. Smith from the investigations subcommittee. Mrs. Smith cracked back by signing an election committee report characterizing the procedures by which John M. Butler, defeated Sen. Tydings, in Maryland in 1950, as a "despicable backstreet type campaign." McCarthy had been a ringleader in the defeat of Tylings.

Robert L. Jones, 33, first appeared in politics as chairman of the Maine young Republicans and executive assistant to Sen. Brewster, who was beaten last year by Mrs. Smith's present colleague, Frederick G. Payne.

Speaking of Jones' announcement of candidacy, Sen. Payne said: "The genesis of this challenge seems to be a long way south of Kittery (Maine's southernmost city) and its financial sinews to be a matter of legitimate public interest."

The latter allusion was to McCarthy's ability to command political contributions from Texas oil millionaires for himself and his close friends and against persons he doesn't like.

IN THAT CATEGORY Clint W. Murchison put up $10,000 to help beat Sen. Tydings and contributed also toward defeat of Sen. Benton of Connecticut, another archenemy of McCarthy. H. R. Cullen, of Texas, sent cash to Sen. Brewster for the primary battle in which he was beaten by Payne.

Commenting further on the Jones candidacy, Payne said Maine voters would "be quick to resent scurrilous personalities and any attempt of persons outside the state to determine its representation in Congress or to influence its future. The more clandestine such an attempt the more it will be resented."

McCarthy has denied any intention to mix in the Maine primary election, but he is scheduled for a series of speeches there beginning next month, which will be watched with great interest.

In tackling Sen. Smith, Jones is nothing if not courageous. A former schoolteacher, Mrs. Smith won election to the House of Representatives in 1940 in a by-election necessitated by the death of her husband. Four times she was re-elected to that post with never so much as a close call.

In 1948 she stepped out as candidate for the Republican Senate nomination against the then governor of the state, Horace Hildreth, and beat him by two to one. She went on to win in November by the record vote of 159,182 to 64 074.

It could be that, by challenging Mrs. Smith thus early, McCarthy is serving notice on less popular republican incumbents of what they may be letting themselves in for by opposing his investigatorial designs.

Winter Vacationists

By TRUMAN TWILL

Something known on the quiet as the "winter vacation" has been sneaking up on this land of the free the last few years and should be unveiled in all its tropical splendor.

As someone was saying the other day, the height of good will is the man who on a bone - chilling winter morning thinks kindly thoughts of all his dear friends lolling about in balmy climes and is glad he knows so many affluent citizens.

Not everybody who takes a winter vacation goes to a better climate. Some go to worse ones—to places where the skiing is better, for example. And some go to places where the climate is supposed to be better but turns out to be worse. Or as the natives say, "We are having unusual weather."

It is not the climate that's the thing but the change from routine, in other words. People have cottoned up to the idea of winter vacations for the same reason they have cottoned up to the idea of summer vacations.

They want a change of scenery and activity.

Therefore, they are entitled to the same consideration as summer vacationists. In a blanket reply to all those who have been so kind as to think of me while cruising in the Mediterranean this winter, basking in Florida sunshine, or being strangers in the pastel-shaded paradise called the Bahamas, I have only this to say:

Wish you were here. The pipes in your bathroom apparently have frozen because there is water running out over the downstairs window sills and freezing into icicles. Your water bill probably will be a dilly.

For a time everybody thought it was water from the hoses the fire department poured on when the roof burned off. But then one of the neighbors remembered that the fire laddies had pumped out all the water as their last act of mercy before they went back to their pinochle game. That was after they had found that supply of elixir in the buffet.

That was why the bathroom pipes froze. The basement was full of water during the fire in the roof and this put out the fire in the gas furnace. If nobody remembered to turn off the gas, the gas bill will be a whopper, too. All things considered, it might be cheaper to collect what's coming on the insurance and buy a little property in Florida and start new down there because the federal referee in bankruptcy was seen snooping around the old lead mine recently and there are dirty rumors afloat.

Besides, some fellow who says he is an attorney keeps calling to ask when you are coming home and always says grimly when given an evasive answer, "I can wait—forever, if necessary."

Oh yes, one more thing. They're getting ready to cut a new street through the back yard. According to the stakes, it will go between your lily bed and your goldfish pool. Both will have to be moved to one side or the other.

That will put the goldfish pool about where your dining room is, or was, until the recent tragedy. It will put the lily bed away to hell and gone across the new street and goodness only knows how you ever will get to it to see the lilies.

If I were you I'd hurry home and start making some new arrangements, provided you think it is worth the time and expense to come home at all, there being so little left to come home to.

P.S.: They've zoned the old neighborhood for light industry and a laundry is going up next door to your place. It is a handsome building.

A Slight Jar to History

By MARK DANA

School children usually are told that one Johannes Gutenberg, a German who died in 1468, invented the process of printing by use of individual pieces of type, and it has been customary to refer to the "Gutenberg Bible" as the first book ever printed with such pieces of type.

As a matter of fact, this man's name really was Gensfleisch, literally "goosefleshy," and as a matter of fact acceptable to many scholars the Chinese were printing from movable type pieces long previously. Similarly, we continue to regard Christopher Columbus as the "discoverer" of America, despite the fact that he never even saw the mainland of North America, and there is some evidence that a Leif Ericson was on the mainland long before 1492.

Anyhow, the John Pierpont Morgan Library in New York, which has enough money to make painstaking investigations, also to be independent of beliefs commonly accepted simply because they are old and oft-repeated, also to purchase truly priceless items, announces it has bought a missal prepared for the Diocese of Constance, Germany, which was printed by Herr Gutenberg at some vague time before the printing of his Bible (between 1450 and 1455), hence before he printed his Psalter in 1457.

There are wild reports on how much the Morgan Library paid for its 188-page Missal; some guesses range to a quarter-million dollars. Obviously, this copy will not be read save by connoisseurs and researchers into typography and printing. One might interject, ruefully, that second-hand Bibles which can be picked up in old-book stores for 50 cents are not read regularly by the very persons who should.

Anyhow, this newly-authenticated Gutenberg Missal is called an experimental book, a sort of tryout of his new type pieces before he undertook to make copies of the Bible other than by laborious hand-lettering. It is an inventive curiosity, especially as Gutenberg improved (but changed) the appearance of some of his letters between start and finish, and maybe there are some distressing typographical errors in it.

No doubt, too, even in those straining days, a few persons were alert instantly to notify the Mainz printer of a letter that slipped, a word that was wrong. Long after the 1450-period, that custom still prevails.

Daily Bible Thought

This bold preacher had denied the very one he now proclaimed. History has no utter turn about in character comparable to that of Peter after the resurection. "But Peter standing with the eleven, lifted up his voice."—Acts 2:14.

Jackie Gleason has taken off 25 pounds . . . His calorie-counting cry is: "Aweigh We Go". . . "Supper Time" as sung by Ethel Waters anytime anywhere is one of the most moving songs we ever heard.

"Turn To" is an Irish-bred horse and if it wins the Kentucky Derby we trust the band will play "How Are Things In Gloca Mora" before and after "My Old Kentucky Home." . . . Arthur Godfrey is going into horse racing. On a telecast from Hialeah he announced that he would have entries at Belmont this season. He revealed that he had a 2,000 acre breeding farm in Virginia and is set to go to the races in a big way. From a ukelele and a sailor suit to a breeding farm and jockey club colors is a big stride, but the redhead has made it. From purely sentimental reasons we wish he had included in his stable the tough campaigner "Teamaker."

We would think his stable could well have traced bloodlines back to such thoroughbreds as "Pastry," "Radio Boy," "Aeriaist," "Royal Minstrel," "Melodist," "Puff," "Marketwise," "The Clown," "Midas," "Starmaster," "Sky Pilot" and "Sir Thomas." There were good horses named "Fourth Estate," "Reporter," "Correspondent" and "Newsboy," but Arthur could hardly go for them in view of his recent impatience with the newspapers.

There is no reason to think Godfrey will choose his entries via any talent scout routine, although if we were invited to a Godfrey program in his present state of racing enthusiasm we would bring a horse . . . Godfrey is a distinct turf threat. For every man who knows Vanderbilt, Whitney and Guggenheim there are tens of thousands who know Arthur. His name has a magic that could make the great names of racing seem insignificant. In a sense his invasion of racing can link up show business with turf events as never before and tie tea, cake mixes, iceboxes, etc., into the sport of kings. It is not hard to picture the horses called to the post by a ukelele instead of a bugle, the ponies led to the post by a Hawaiian dancer and the loudspeaker announcing that the Godfrey entry is ridden by the McGuire sisters.

Two Ohio Cities Await Decision On Airport Aid

Columbus, Portsmouth Seek Federal Funds To Construct Facilities

WASHINGTON (AP) — Columbus and Portsmouth, Ohio, soon will know whether to expect federal money they seek for airport construction and expansion

Commerce Undersecretary Robert B Murray says his department will make up its mind whether to recommend resumption of federal airport aid in about two weeks.

Columbus wants to improve Port Columbus. Portsmouth, in the heart of the southern Ohio atomic plant area, wants to build an airport to serve the booming district

Murray said the Commerce Department is waiting for a report on the advisability of resuming airport aid from its transportation council.

If the report is favorable, Murray said, the administration will seriously consider asking Congress for a supplementary appropriation

Two Ohio congressmen, Reps Jenkins, a Republican, and Polk, a Democrat, recently appealed to the House for help in building a Portsmouth airport.

Said Polk "I was advised several months ago by the former chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, Gordon Dean, that a suitable air field was very necessary for the use of the government and for the use of various activities in connection with this atomic energy plant

Jenkins said "These people (in Portsmouth) have a moral right as well as a financial right to expect some agency of the government to come forward with a program that will do what should be done"

$50,000 Traffic Suit By Crestliner Settled

BUCYRUS — An out of court settlement was reached here late Saturday afternoon as the $50,000 action for money of Ralph Eugene Amick of near Crestline against Ernest Peterson, Cadillac, Mich, neared the end of the third trial day before a jury and Common Pleas Judge John C Carroll.

Amick, had claimed he was seriously injured in an auto-motorcycle collision in Crestline on June 13, 1951, when he was 19 years old. The plaintiff was a passenger on a motorcycle, driven by Roy A. Nelson, Crestline. He charged that Peterson drove his car into the motorcycle. His alleged injuries included a broken leg and ankle, which necessitated an operation, long hospitalization and loss of earnings.

Terms of the settlement were not disclosed.

Learn Love in Lent

REV. W. L STAFFORD
Pastor of Wesley Methodist Church

"Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. And . . . thou shalt love they neighbor as thyself."—Matthew 22 37,39.

God commands us to love But how can we? It is next to impossible for many people to love because they have experienced so little real love The number of people in Marion or any city who don't know anything about love is heart-breakingly large. Those who do know a little about love need much more

Let's learn to love in lent First try forgiving everyone Start with the members of your own family Most people have an accumulation of grudges from the years of the past In what way have your parents, sisters, brothers, uncles, aunts or in-laws hurt you? What are the little insults or mean tricks they have done? Realize that these grudges do you more harm than anyone else What is the use to hold them? They are poison to your personality.

Secondly, pray for each person who has ever hurt you in any way

Thirdly, pray for the gift of love Say the words "perfect love" over and over, a hundred times per day Say them in time to your steps as you walk Say them in time to the ticking of a clock or to your windshield wiper Put yourself to sleep by saying "perfect love"

Fourthly radiate love to everyone Pretend to be a radiator sending off waves of love Radiate love to your neighbors, to the people you work with to schoolmates, to customers, bosses employes and everyone Radiate love to strangers as well as friends Above all send out lots of love to your enemies

To love is to live To hate is to die Love wins Hate loses It is always better to love Don't be afraid to love

PRAYER "O my God Thou art love Fill me with Thyself Then I will be full of love Make me an instrument of Thy love, through Jesus Christ our Savior Amen"

By George Sokolsky

Every man, in private or public life, functions within the margins of a philosophy of action. Joe McCarthy has been with us long enough for the pattern of his philosophy to be sufficiently clear to be describable. Attacked more viciously than any man in public position since Herbert Hoover was president, he has survived, not because the powerful men of the country or even his party favor him, but because the people support him. The phenomenon requires analysis.

SOKOLSKY

McCarthy is not a military hero; he is not a great orator; he has never assumed leadership either in legislation or administration. He is not a scholar or a jurist. Nevertheless, few senators will deny that McCarthy can go into their states and affect the vote on Election Day.

McCarthy is not a demagogue, for he makes no promises to the people, sets forth no broad program and asks for no votes. He actually risked defeat in Wisconsin, where he ran for office, by campaigning in states where he did not run for office. He defeated Senators Tydings in Maryland and Benton in Connecticut.

WHY THEN DO the people follow McCarthy, so that he represents substantial power in the Congress? The answer is that in the simplicity of his intellectual orientation, McCarthy mirrors not only what the people think but what they want.

One can use such a term as Americanism, but that is not quite it. It is Americanism of a kind — of a kind which those of us over 40 experienced and those under 40 have only heard about.

It is an expression on its negative side of a rejection of Marxism; on its positive side it amounts to articulate patriotism.

Arthur Krock, for whom I have the greatest respect, refers to McCarthy as a bully; yet Krock can remember, I am sure, when if a man did not pledge allegiance to the Flag or did not rise to the "Star-Spangled Banner," someone made him do it.

There was a time when if one heard someone denouncing the United States, he would punch him. Rude! Uncouth! Brutal! Immature! Call it what you will, but it was an emotional response to patriotism by energetic, strong-willed people.

In our maturity (if it is not senility) we have become so refined that a soldier may wear the uniform of the country who will not even pledge loyalty to the Flag and Constitution. Is it refinement or is it the denaturing of national pride?

WERE McCARTHY only an Anti-Communist, he would make no greater impression on the public mind than the other millions of Americans who are Anti-Communist, some of whom write articles and make speeches and report on their wicked neighbors.

His strength is that he adds to Anti-Communism a revived patriotism, a resurrection of nationalism, an insistence upon a traditional respect for country, Flag and Constitution.

Many who oppose McCarthy are as patriotic as he is and have perhaps thought the problem out as well as or better than he has. They are gentle in their enunciation; they are polite in their attacks; they are unwilling to risk being lampooned; they are too refined to soil themselves with the mud of battle.

Many of them say that while they like his goals, they despise his methods. Actually, they generally know little about his methods, for another element in McCarthy's strength is the fact that, except in the case of James Wechsler, about whom there are vast differences of opinion, no one has yet challenged McCarthy, naming names, that he has without warrant accused anyone of disloyalty, subversion or espionage.

THE POLITICIANS of both parties are beginning to discover that the American people are growing increasingly anti-internationalist.

There will be many new faces in the Congress after 1954 because it is difficult for those who have been internationalists to explain our diplomatic defeats, neutralism, the growth of Soviet Russia, the emergence of a Communist state in Latin America, the infiltration of our government and institutions of learning.

Parents, however, are recognizing that their children know all about the world but very little about the United States. They say something must be wrong.

Even those who grow irked by McCarthy's roughness support his ardent nationalism and they go along with him, in astonishing numbers. From my knowledge of the man, I would say that nationalism is his philosophy.

(King Features Syndicate)

NEARS 75TH BIRTHDAY. Dr. Albert Einstein, the world's foremost physicist and propounder of the intricate relativity theory which played a part in the development of the atom bomb, takes the sun near his home at Princeton, N. J. The German-born mathematical genius, now a teacher at the Institute for Advance Study at Princeton, will be 75 years old on March 14.

WAR PLAN USED

The use of girls' names for hurricanes was begun during World War II. Storms in the Pacific were given girls' names, taken from an alphabetical list and Atlantic hurricanes received names from the phonetic alphabet. Girls' names for all hurricanes came into general use in 1953, after a new phonetic alphabet was adopted. Names of the Hurricanes start with Alice, Barbara and Carol.

Anti-Labor?

By Victor Riesel

Not so long ago I was whisked out of Munich along the smooth Bavarian roads to a building some 15 miles from the city — a building housing the electronic nerve center of an anti-Communist radio network reaching from Norway down to Portugal. To get inside I had to pass through a barbed wire compound watched over by armed men and their specially trained police dogs, guarding the ultra-modern listening and sending post against Communist raiders and intelligence agents.

RIESEL

Despite the fact that is is the center of communications with the underground behind the nearby Iron Curtain and is daily demoralizing the enemy, that operation, Radio Free Europe, itself is under sharp attack by an American union, the world's largest union local, in fact.

The attack on an Anti-Communist crusade which I personally saw and heard in action as one of our most effective weapons in cracking the economy, war production and manpower reserve of the Soviets, has just been launched by leaders of the famous Ford Local 600, covering the giant River Rouge plant.

THE LOCAL IS a section of the CIO United Auto Workers Union which for years has been at war with its international president, Walter Reuther. Yet, such is our labor set-up in the U.S., that a section of the Auto Workers actually can slash at one of the most vital activities of the Crusade For Freedom — which, in turn, is supported by virtually all U.S. labor, including Reuther who is one of the Crusade's vice-chairmen.

The giant local at Ford used its union newspaper in an attempt to dissuade the 60,000 working people there from giving financial support to this Anti-Communist propaganda drive.

The story ran under a two-column, three-line, front-page headline blatantly proclaiming: "Local Ex. Bd. Blasts Radio Free Europe Dollar Drive."

It then went on to report that the local's leaders had gone out of their way to adopt a motion supporting "Voice of America" as an "arm of the U.S. foreign policy." But, "On the contrary," the motion said, the local opposes "private propaganda programs such as Radio Free Europe since they are not controlled by our government and are not responsive to the American people and seek to compete in the world arena of ideas with our government-sponsored program."

REPORT OF the passage of this resolution was signed on the front page, you'll be fascinated to learn, by a William H. Johnson, recording secretary of the local.

Now I'll tell you why you will be fascinated. This man Johnson is under subpena by the House Un-American Activities Committee, which believes he has a good deal to tell them about infiltration of the strategic giant Ford plant, at which much defense material is made in time of conflict. If there is a conflict, it's certain to be only with the Tovarischi beyond the Iron Curtain. Whom are we preparing to meet anyway — men from outer space?

On page 11 of the House Un-American Activities Committee Annual Report for 1952, you will find an item in this weird history of our times referring to the man Johnson who so gleefully reports the Anti-Radio Free Europe resolution.

Says the congressional report:

"His (Carl Stellato, president of the Ford Local) administrative assistant, Johnson, was at one time an officer of the Foundry Unit (at River Rouge) of the Communist party."

IN OTHER WORDS, the congressional committee charges that this man, who now speaks for the leadership of the nation's largest union local, was also a leader of the underground Communist shop cell in the building upon which pivots the entire gargantuan Ford plant.

Based on what has been disclosed about Communist party shop cells, we know that they are under the discipline of the national Communist party apparatus which, in turn, takes orders from the Comintern abroad.

Although we have it from none other than FBI director J. Edgar Hoover that the party's orders are to concentrate primarily on the automotive industry, we find that a man who, since some 15 months has been charged with being a Communist shop cell official, is still in a position of power in a strategic and massive union.

Yet there are elements which attack the coming investigation in Detroit as an anti-labor excursion!

Who is more anti-labor? The government men who will expose the Johnsons?

Or the Johnsons who try to keep American dollars from easing the lives of horribly enslaved labor behind the Iron Curtain?

Flowers in Capital

By Ed Creagh

(For Hal Boyle)

WASHINGTON (AP)—You like flowers? Come along to Washington. We've got acres of them—From sassy yellow tulips to frail-as-a-wisp orchids—all under one roof at the national capital flower show. Prettiest thing you ever saw.

Maybe I shouldn't mention this but you can do more than smell the posies at this big annual event. You can get your back massaged and your personality analyzed. I did both and my back came out better than my personality.

Flowers are the main attraction, though, and that's fine with me. I'm a great garden fancier, and our back yard would be a solid mass of blooms in summer except that I'm too tender-hearted; I hate to see my wife's hands calloused from doing all the work.

Boris Timchenko, the landscape artist, designed this year's show, and came up with what he calls "one of the newer ideas of outdoor living.. the newest of all necessities, or maybe the greatest of all luxuries—the private bedroom garden."

"There is," says Timchenko, a man after my own heart, "a tendency to spend more time in your bedroom, to relax in your bed, or recline in a chair; to let your mind wander over the most peaceful of all spectacles—plants and flowers growing in the ealry morning sunlight."

Tiptoeing away to avoid waking Timchenko—who does the planting and weeding, by the way, while he lies late abed?—you can investigate some of the sample gardens. One of the better ideas: a child-proof garden, with your prized blossoms cannily planted out of reach of the demon fingers of the young 'uns.

But oops—what's this:

"Would you care to have your back massaged?" asks a nice-looking girl in a booth at the edge of the floral display.

You look dubiously at your wife, but she's lost in rapture over some flame-red camellias so you nod a nervous assent. Don't expect too much, though. All the girl does is apply an oversize massaging gadget, something like the barber uses on your scalp, to the region of your sacro-illiac.

"Just the thing for gardeners," she says brightly. "takes out the kinks and tensions. Only $49.50. Now this reclining chair contains three massage motors. Just ease back, flip a switch and—"

You get away from there quick before you go native. Massage chairs, private bedroom gardens—what kind of outdoor life is this, anyway?

Now (there is just a hint of Coney Island around the edges of the flower show) comes Omar, a pleasant little man in a beret. He'll analyze your handwriting for a fee. Never mind what Omar told me about myself; the grand jury is still in session.

One thing puzzled us for a moment about the flower show. The "President Eisenhower" rose, a handsome specimen, is planted right next to the "Goldilocks" rose. We looked hard for some evidence of (A) Democratic or (B) Republican propaganda, but finally decided it was just one of those things. There's no politics in the flower show, so far as we could see. Maybe that's why it's such a big success.
